DEDICATION

He can be seen poised at his typewriter in Publications Room 324. He can be heard on our local radio station — WLPO. His influence can be felt in the Caval-Currents section of the Teen-Trib and in many past editions of the Ell Ess Pe yearbook. Mr. Joe Terrando's dedication to the community and to L-P has long been a driving force behind the success of many projects and publications.

Mr. Terrando's educational background includes a Ph. B. from Marquette University and a M.S. Ed. from Northern Illinois University. For many years he has pursued a career in advertising and public relations including jobs at the Daily News Tribune and WLPO radio station. At L-P, Mr. Terrando's contributions will always be remembered. He was active in the referendum effort of 1985 and the success of L-P's 75th anniversary and the 1986 Open House was due partially to Mr. Terrando's hard work. Students at L-P who listened to announcements know his voice but Mr. Terrando is probably recognized as the advisor to the Caval-Currents and Ell Ess Pe staffs.

Teachers and students alike speak highly of Mr. Terrando and his involvement in our school. Ask people at L-P about Mr. Terrando and you'll hear statements like these:

"A man with a marvelous sense of humor who always has a quick answer!"

"Mr. Ell Ess Pe!"

"He works hard and is enthusiastic about every project he's involved in."

"Mr. T always has time to help with any problem."

"A true gentleman!"

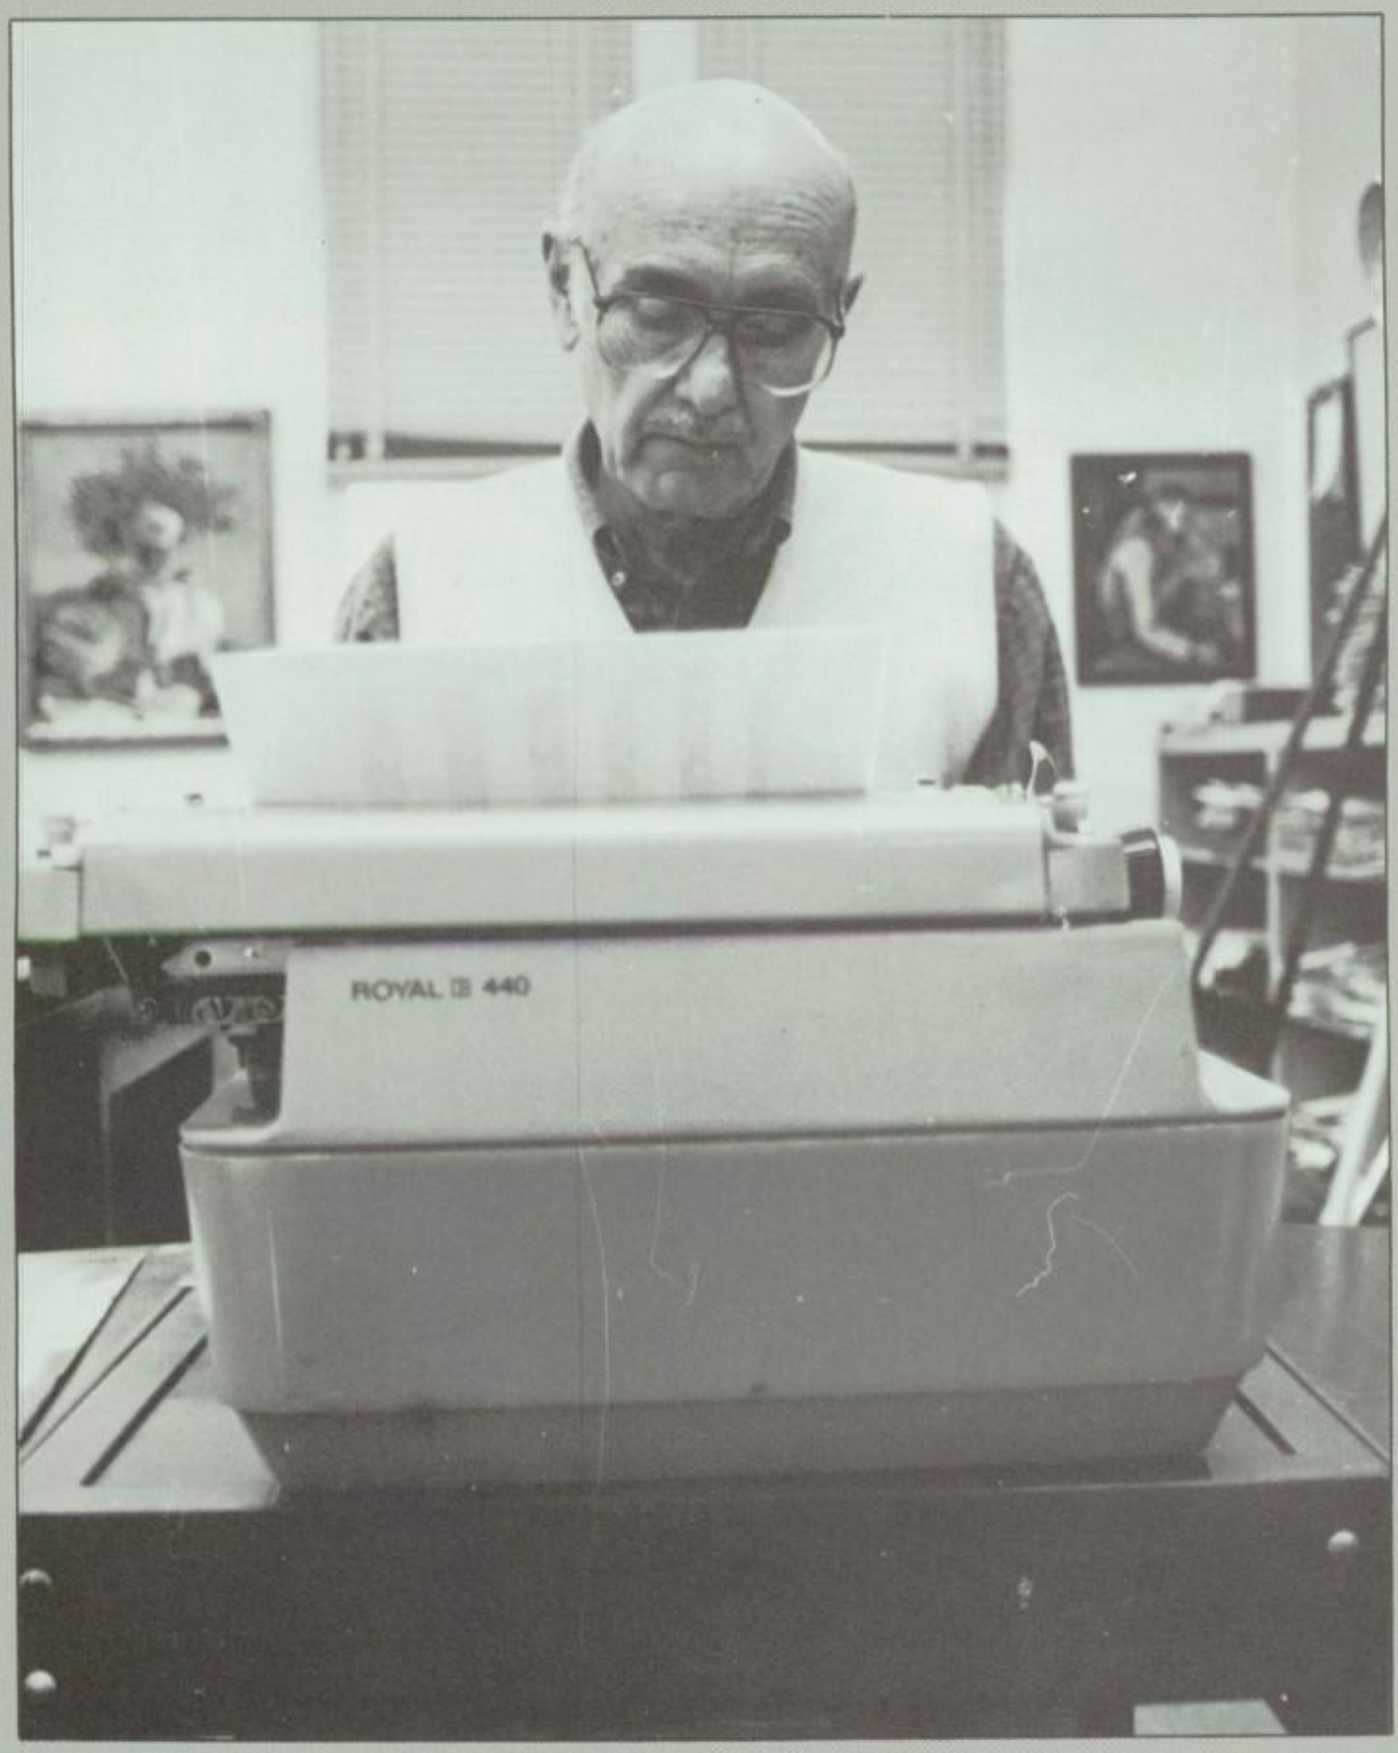
"He is genuinely kind."

"Mr. Terrando goes above and beyond the call of duty in everything he does."

It is obvious that Mr. Terrando is a valuable and much loved member of the teaching staff at L-P.

L-P owes much to a man who, for fifteen years, dedicated his efforts to the success of the Ell Ess Pe. The 1986-87 Ell Ess Pe staff would like to give something back to him. This year's yearbook; "Putting the Pieces Together," is dedicated to Mr. Terrando because he, for the past fifteen editions of the Ell Ess Pe, has "put all the pieces together."

JOSEPH TERRANDO



Before School ... And In Between

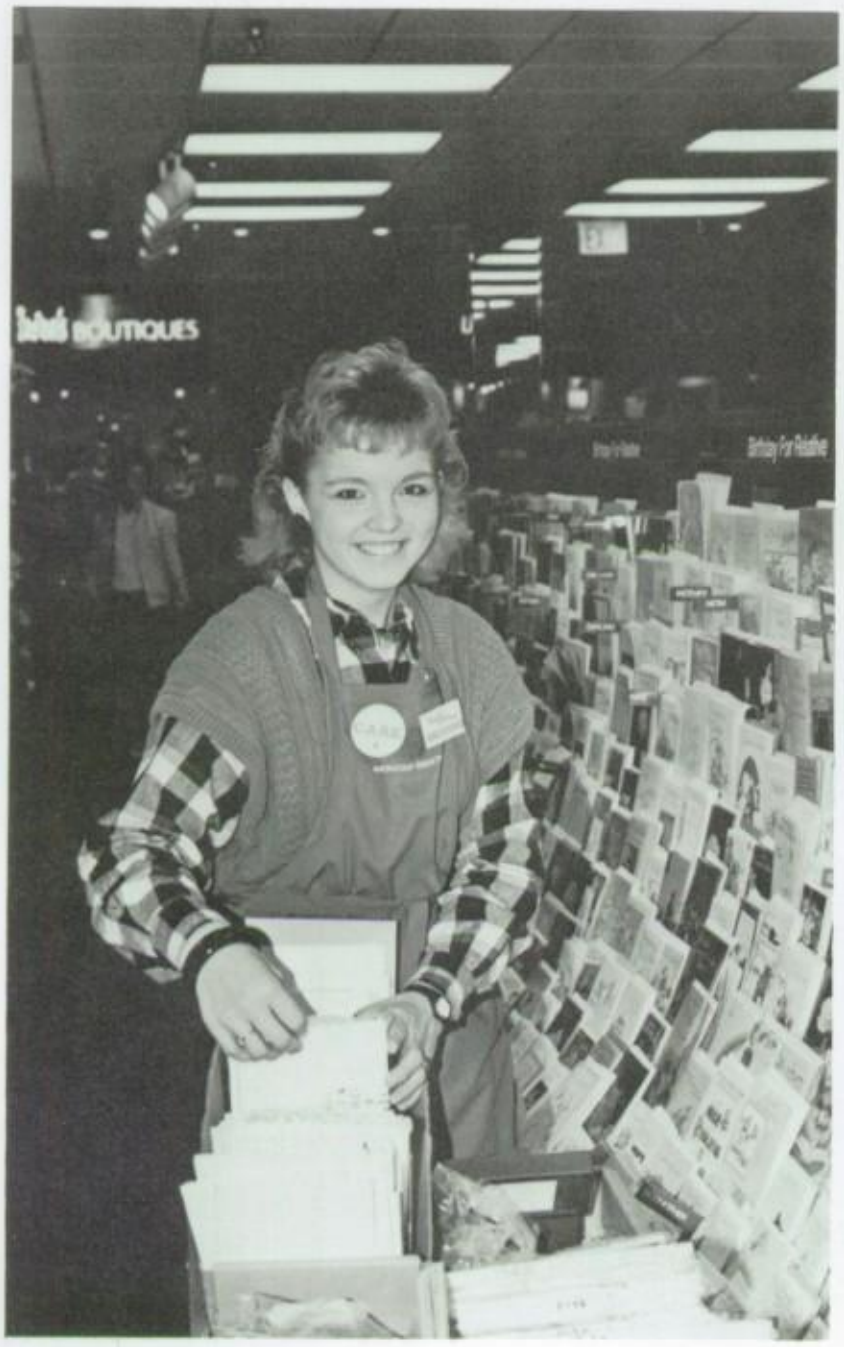
Rushing to school, combing the hair, chatting with friends, catching that ride and doing the homework that was due for that day but wasn't done the night before are some of the things students find themselves doing before school.

EUCHRE

Euchre is the most popular card game on campus. Players can be spotted during lunch hours and prep periods in the senior lounge and old cafeteria. Daily tournaments are held every day during fifth hour.

JOBS FILL AFTER SCHOOL

Kathy Crew and Katie Fitzgerald clown around at MacDonald's.



Bonnie Castagna sorts cards at her job at Summit Stationers.

Janelle Mrowicki models the newest fashion kicks at Thom McAn.

HOURS FOR SOME STUDENTS

Joe Zokal and "friends" hang out at Kaybee.

Jill Urban sells athletic shoes at the Footlocker.

Nancy Hebel looks over bestsellers at her job at Waldenbooks.

Fast food restaurants, grocery stores, paper routes, and shops at the mall are only a few of the many establishments employing our students of L-P.

Working part-time after school and on weekends is not the greatest way to pass the time, but the thought of the upcoming weekend makes the work seems a bit easier.

The majority of students work strictly for spending money. They use it for car insurance, lunch money, gas money, buying clothes, and just having fun.

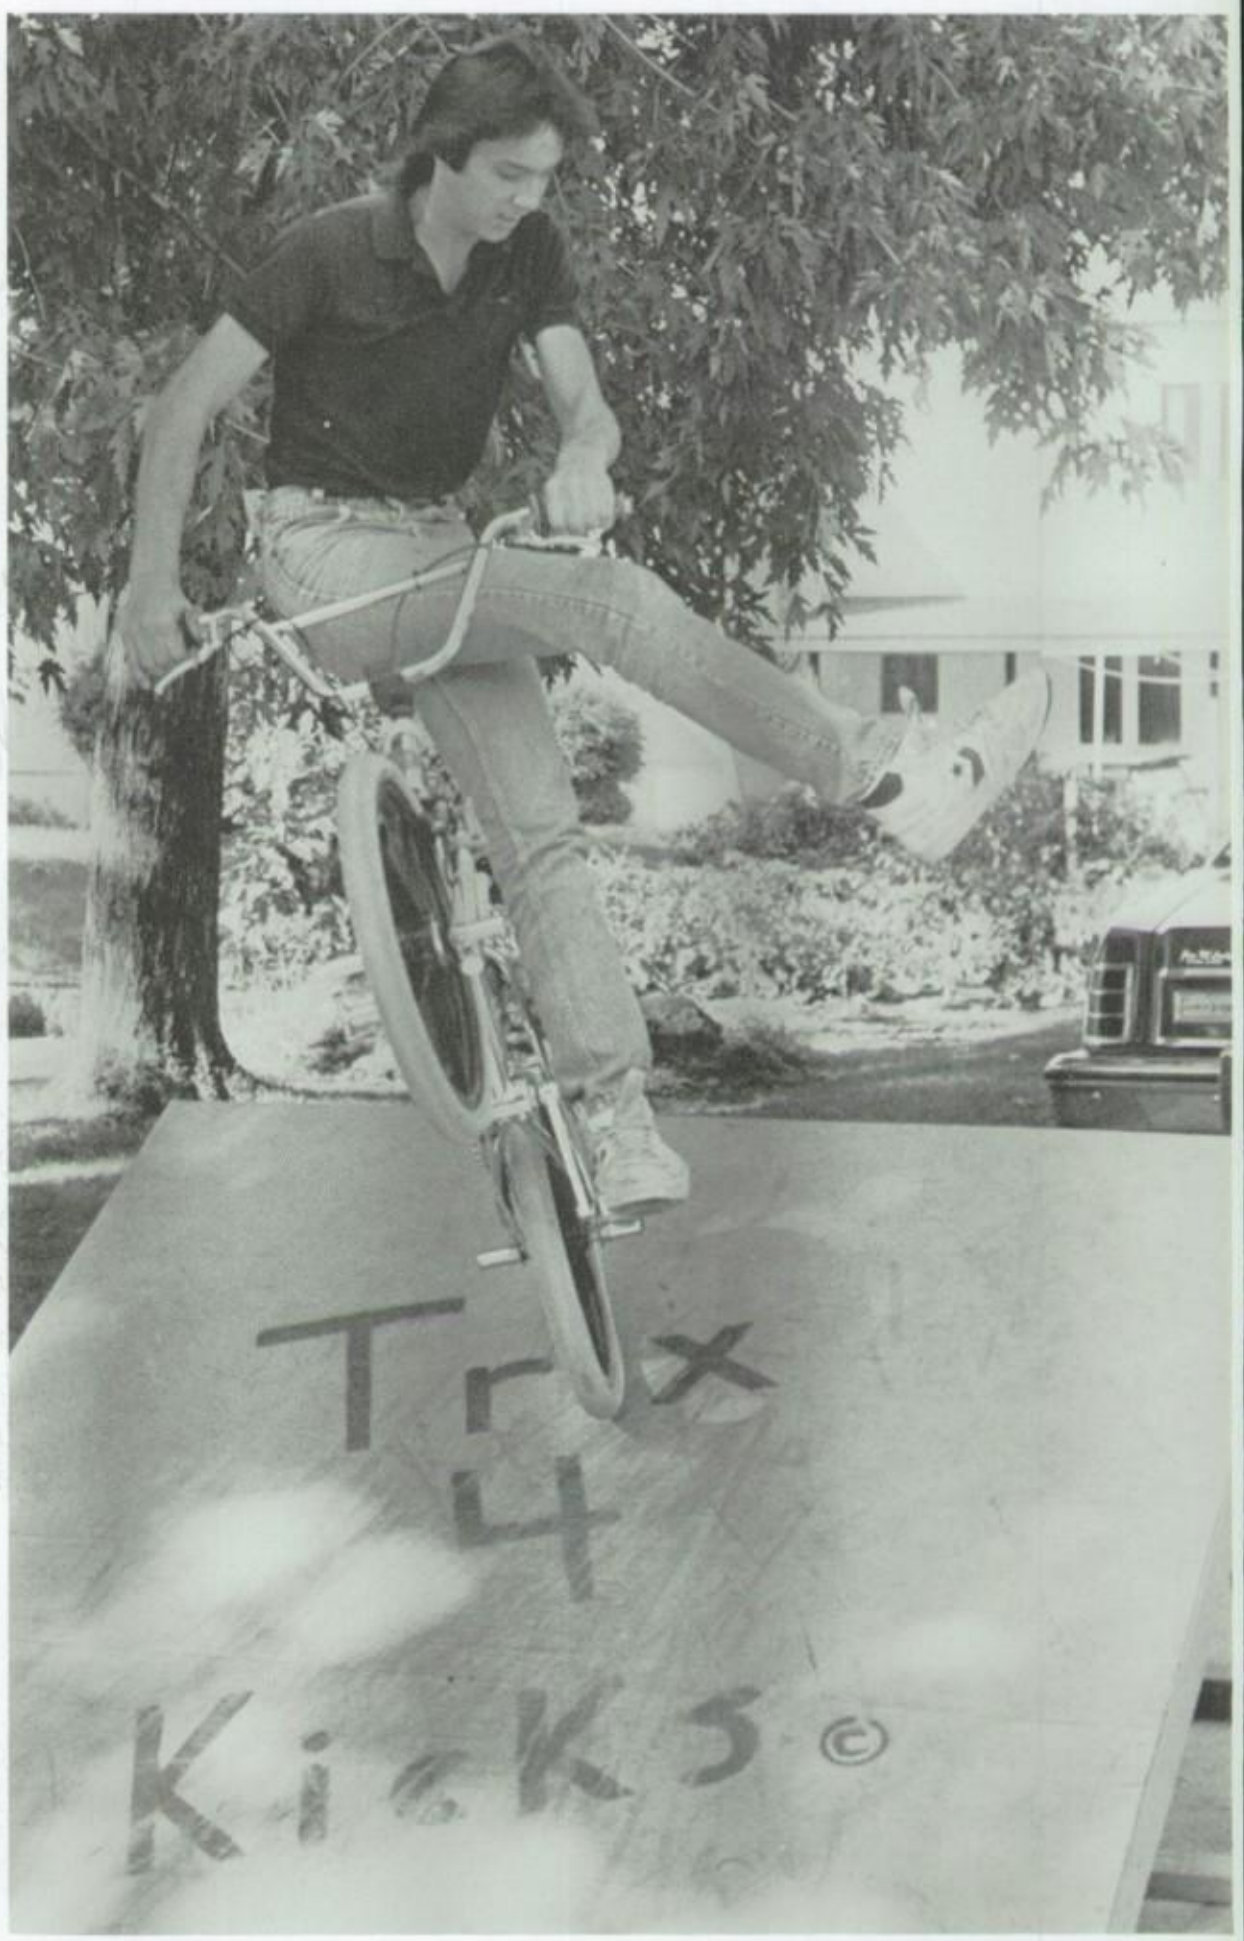
Freestylers Strut Their Stuff



Bunny hopping, can-can, lefty mover, cherry picker. These unfamiliar terms, are very familiar to fans of freestyling, a relatively new sport to this area. Trix 4 Kicks is the local team comprised mostly of LP students.

A freestyle bike is different from a BMX racing bike in that the components such as brakes, tires, and rims are made stronger so they don't give under strenuous conditions.

Competition at the national level is stiff and a freestyler must be the best to get the needed sponsorship of a bike manufacturer.

Team member and photographer Brian Swain caught Chris Reeland, right, doing a can-can on the Trix 4 Kicks ramp.

They may receive a snicker or two from classmates, but to them it's just a way to communicate their feelings through their clothes.

HIGH SCHOOL: PUTTING THE PIECES TOGETHER

Puzzles are among many methods by which people entertain themselves. When the scrambled pieces are assembled, the picture is complete.

Puzzles are just like high school. New friends and teachers, different classes and clubs, and various sports and dances are some of the things we put together to form our high school years.

Each year we place the pieces together. We create a picture of the activities we take part in to form a unique puzzle called high school.

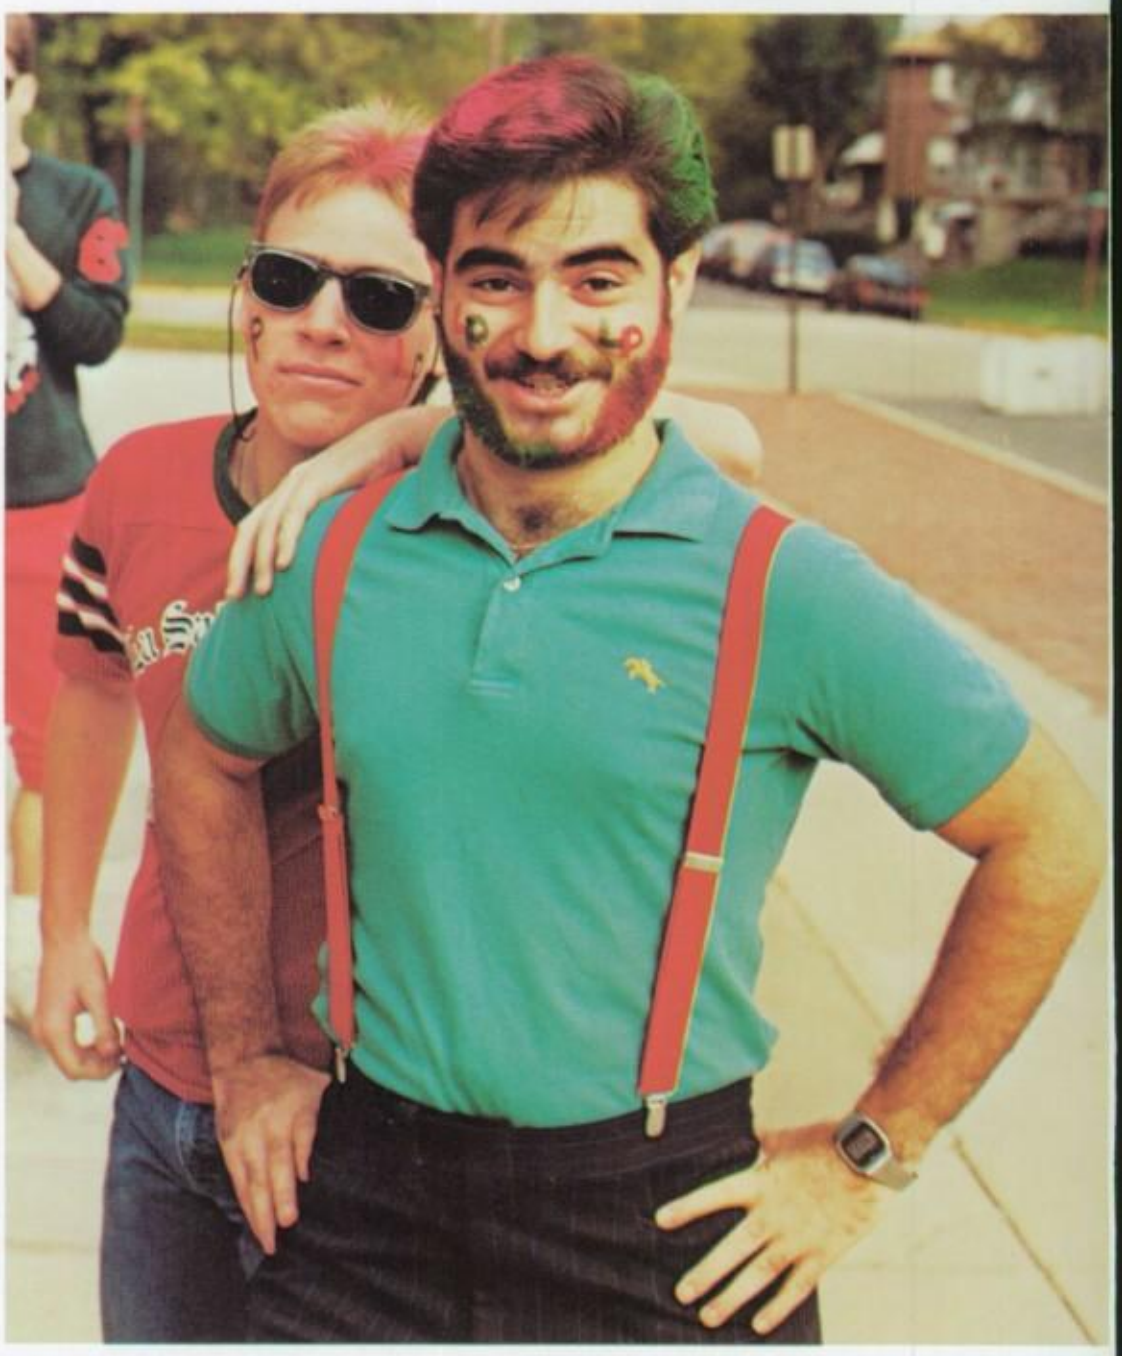
Homecoming 1986

SPIRIT

L-P's student body displayed their school spirit by participating in four dress-up days chosen by the Student Council for Homecoming Week '86. The week started off with Hawaiian Day, Sports Day, Toga Day, and finally Red-n-Green Spirit Day.



George Maxedon shows his spirit by dressing for Red-n-Green Day.

ONCE UPON

The big night finally arrived. The hectic week was coming to an end. After anticipating who would be the Homecoming date, looking for that special outfit, making reservations at that favorite restaurant and picking out flowers, it was time to relax and enjoy the dance.

The theme of "Once Upon a Time" provided the perfect setting for the perfect storybook evening. Couples enjoyed dancing to the music provided by "Ruckus." The decorations, in white and shades of blue, added to the storybook theme. Pictures of the couples were taken in front of a replica of a starlit sky, a perfect momento of a perfect evening.

L-P students are all enjoying an evening of fun and enchantment.

SPORTS

Competitive sports has long been a generator of L-P spirit. Sports is one area that unites students, parents, and fans of La Salle-Peru in striving for excellence.

Whether the athletes take to the fields, courts, or mats, they all aim for the best that they can be.

In this section, the pain and the triumph of all Cavalier sports is captured. Every athlete, no matter the sport, achieves one common goal, to sustain La Salle-Peru's record of excellence.

RETURNEES AND ROOKIES MAKE WINNING TEAM

"From game one to game twenty, there was great improvement." — Coach Giovanine

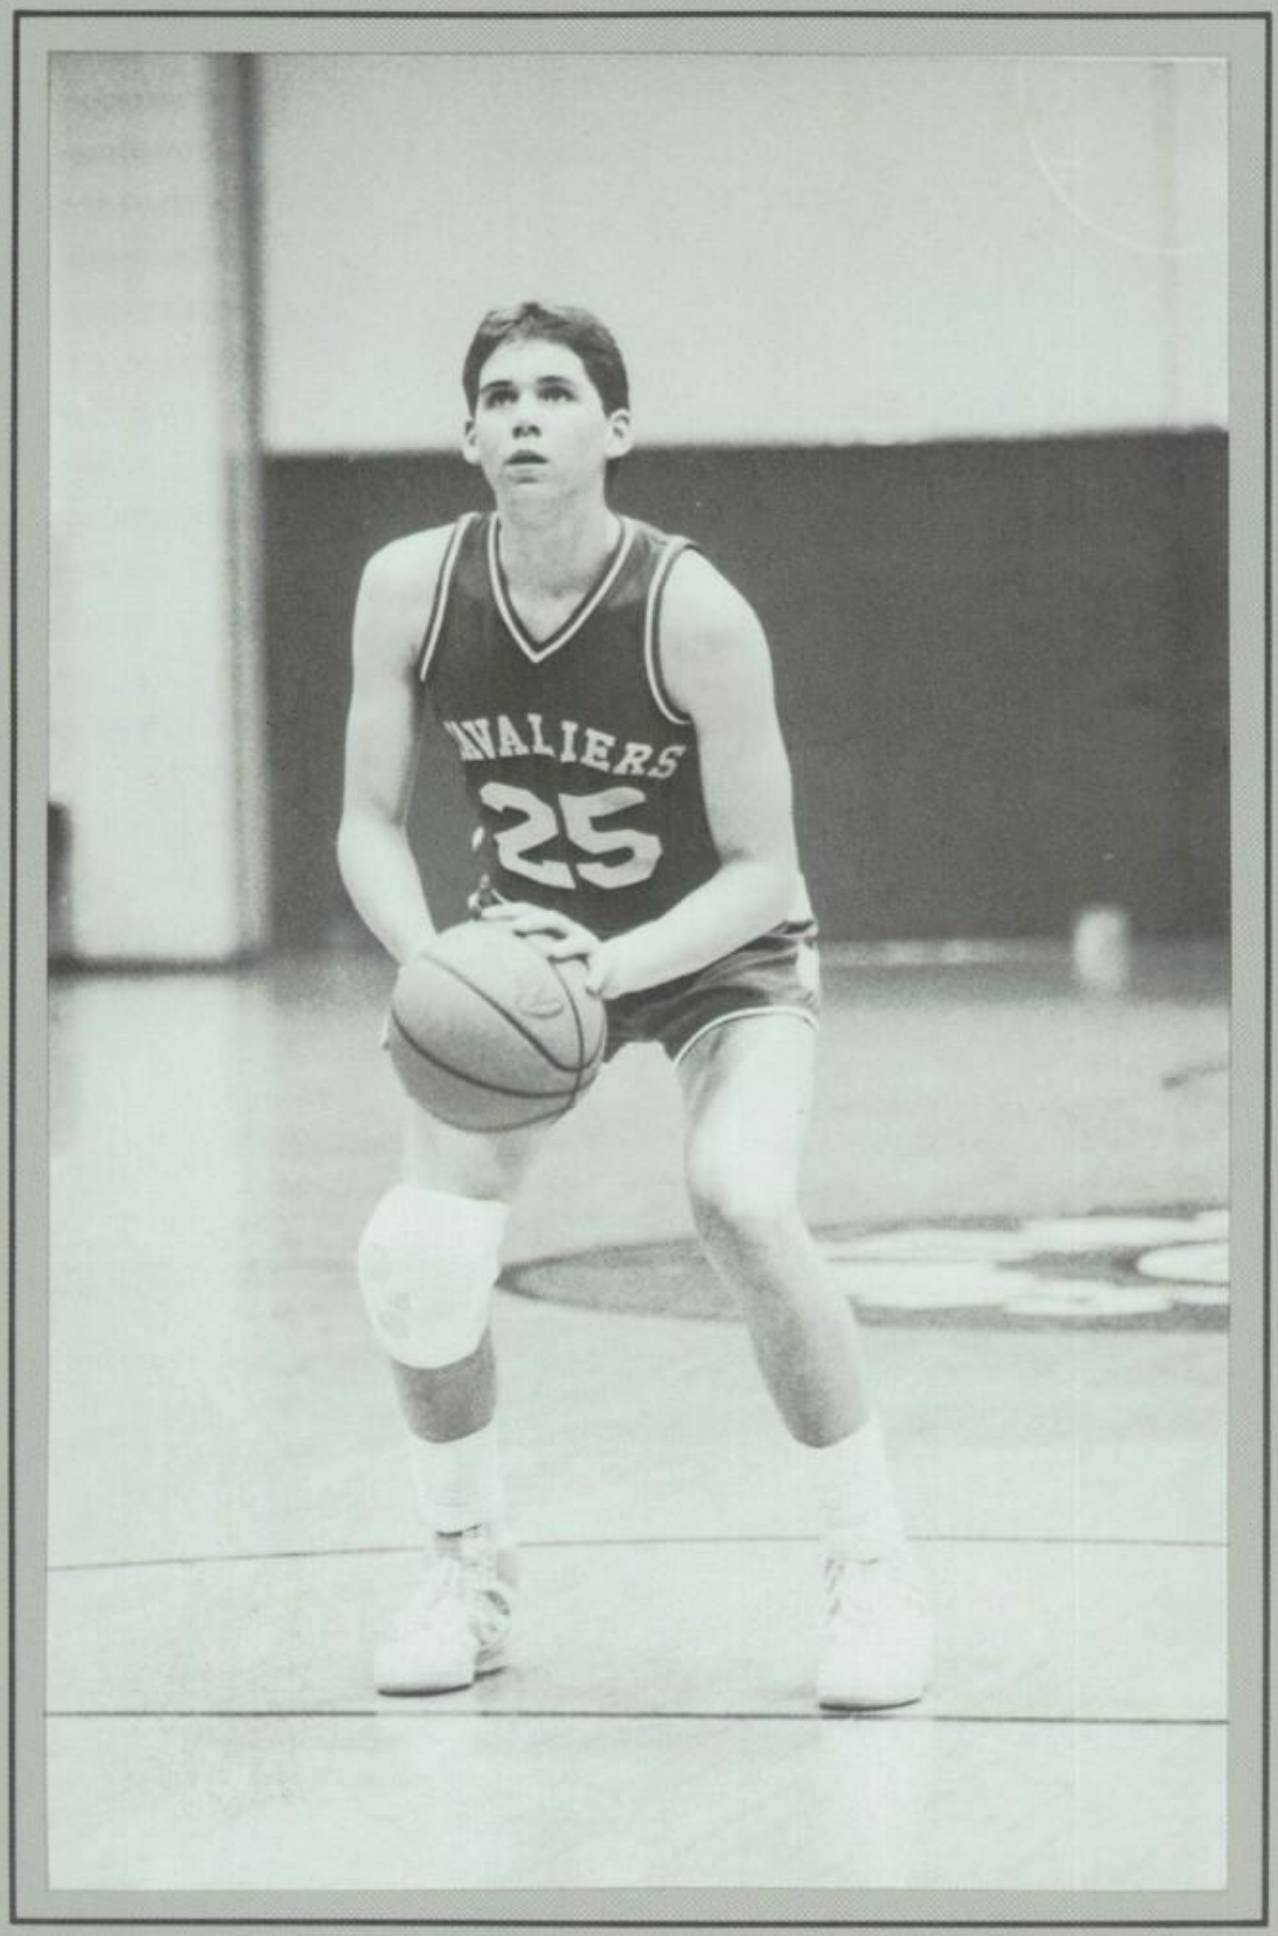
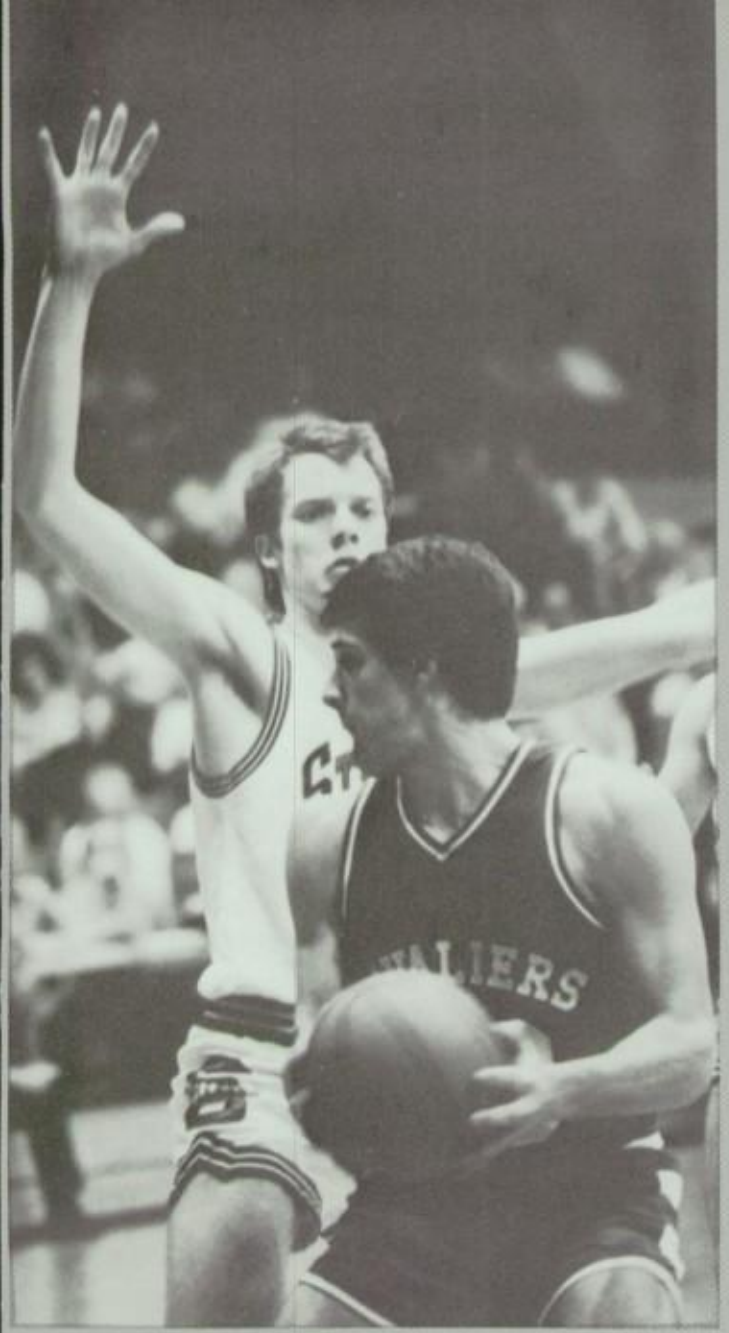
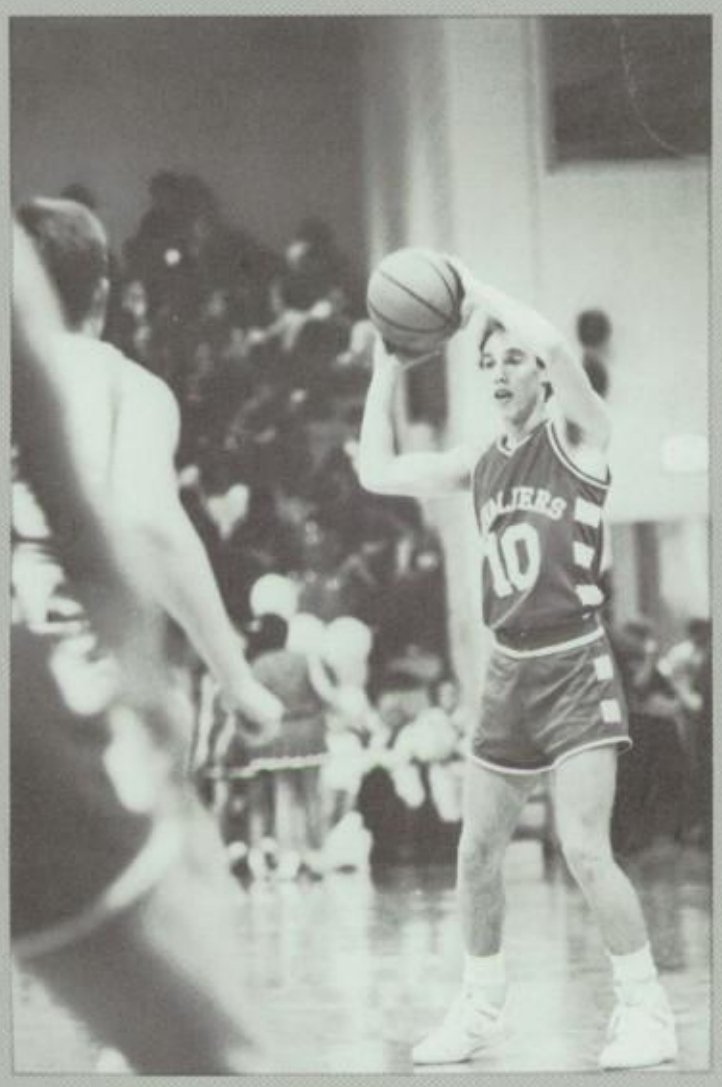
The fans watch in awe while Jason Clydesdale makes the shot.



Senior Mark Anglavar is posed for action. He dominated the conference as leading scorer with an average of 24 points per game. He was voted Most Valuable Player, both his junior and senior years. He and the rest of his Cav teammates led the NCIC division.





TOP LEFT: Six foot post Dave Brovelli looks for an opening against his Streator rival. He is the best rebounder, inch for inch, on the Cav squad. ABOVE: Junior starter, Marc Galassi displays his defensive moves for the L-P Cagers. His shooting percentage from the freethrow line is over 70.

The Inca Cagers piece together a successful season

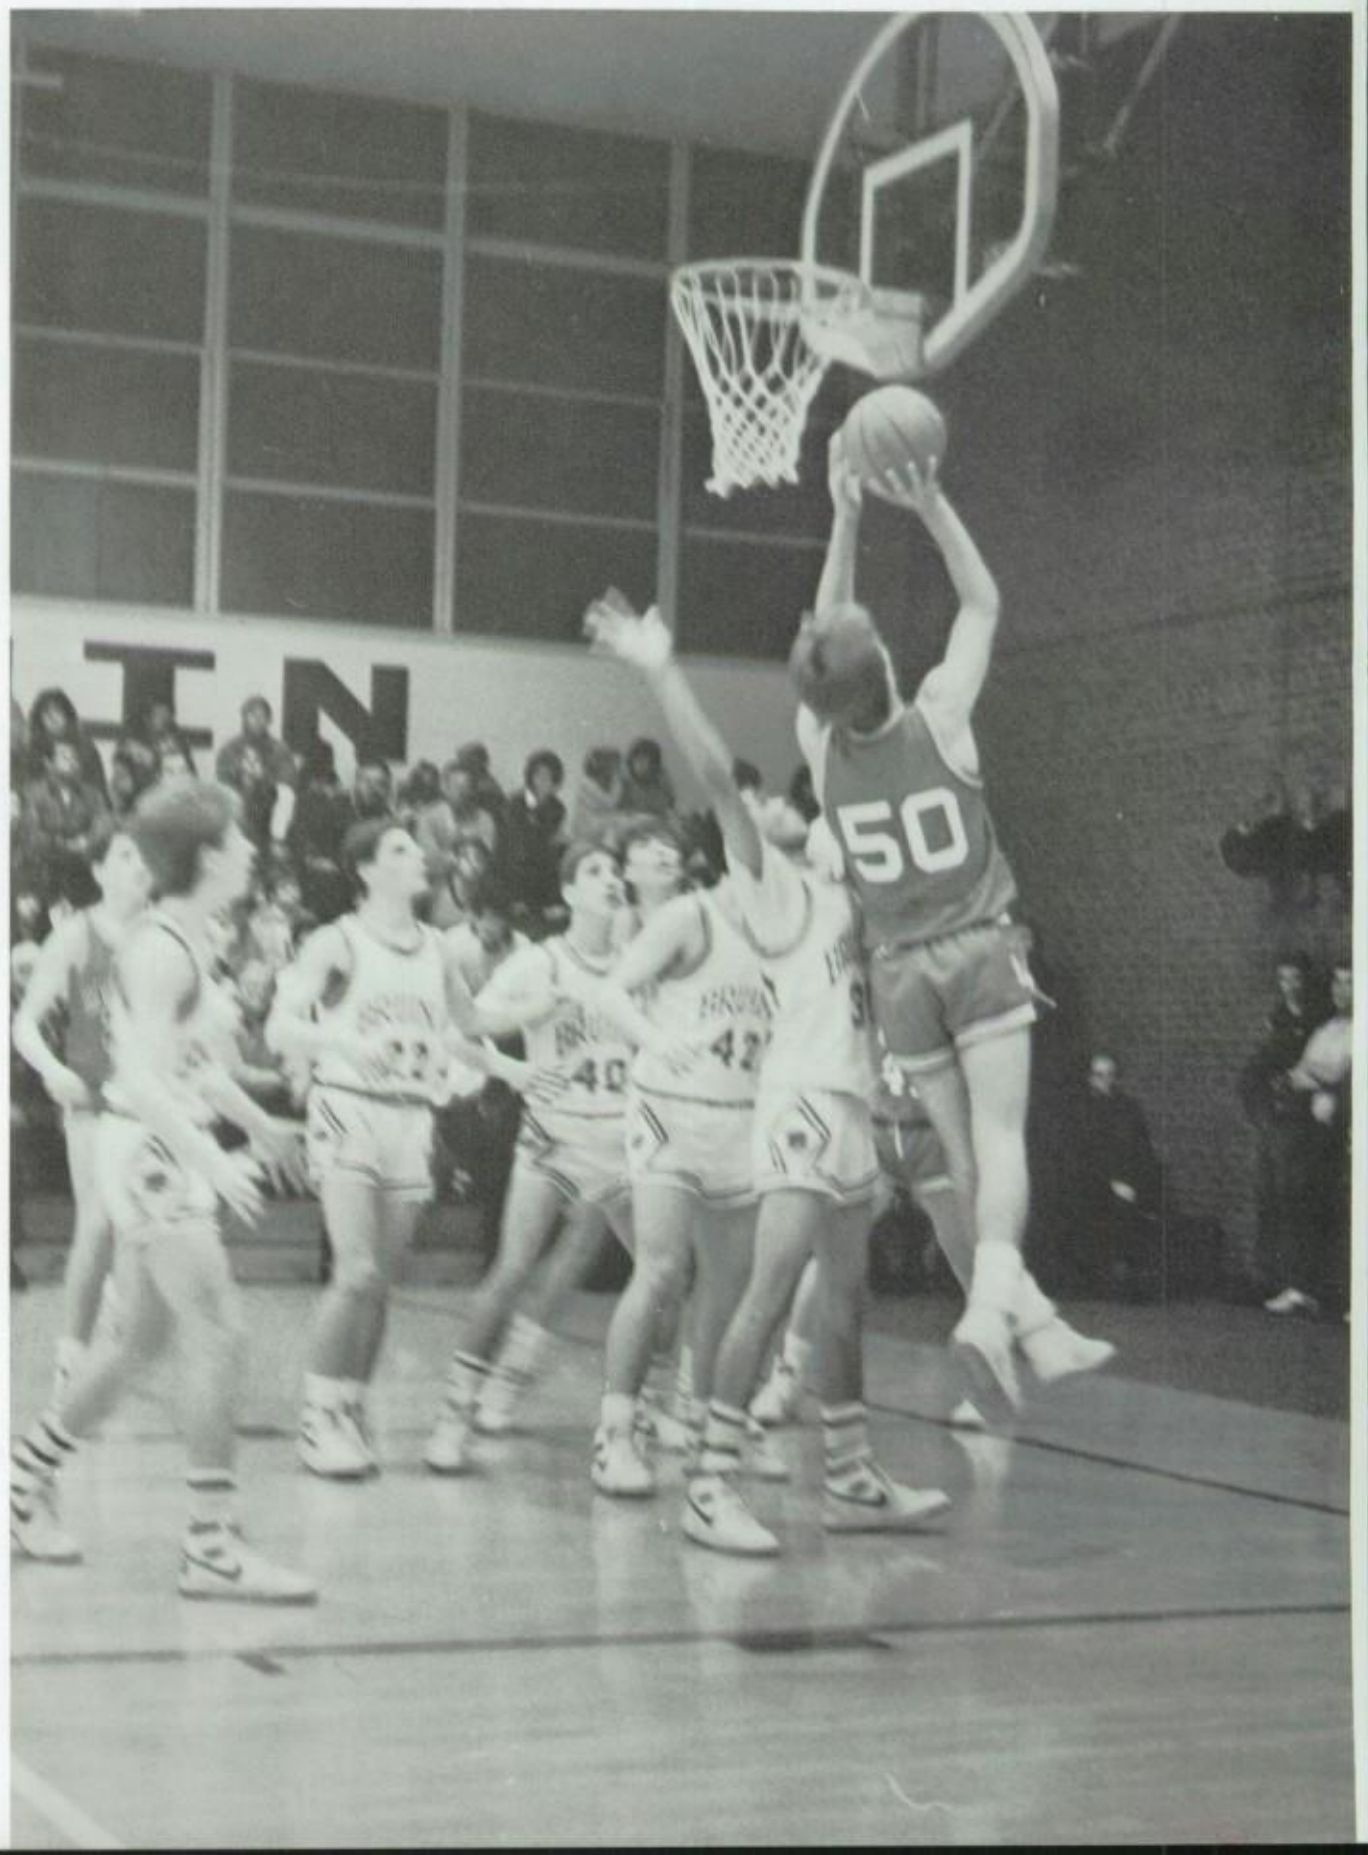
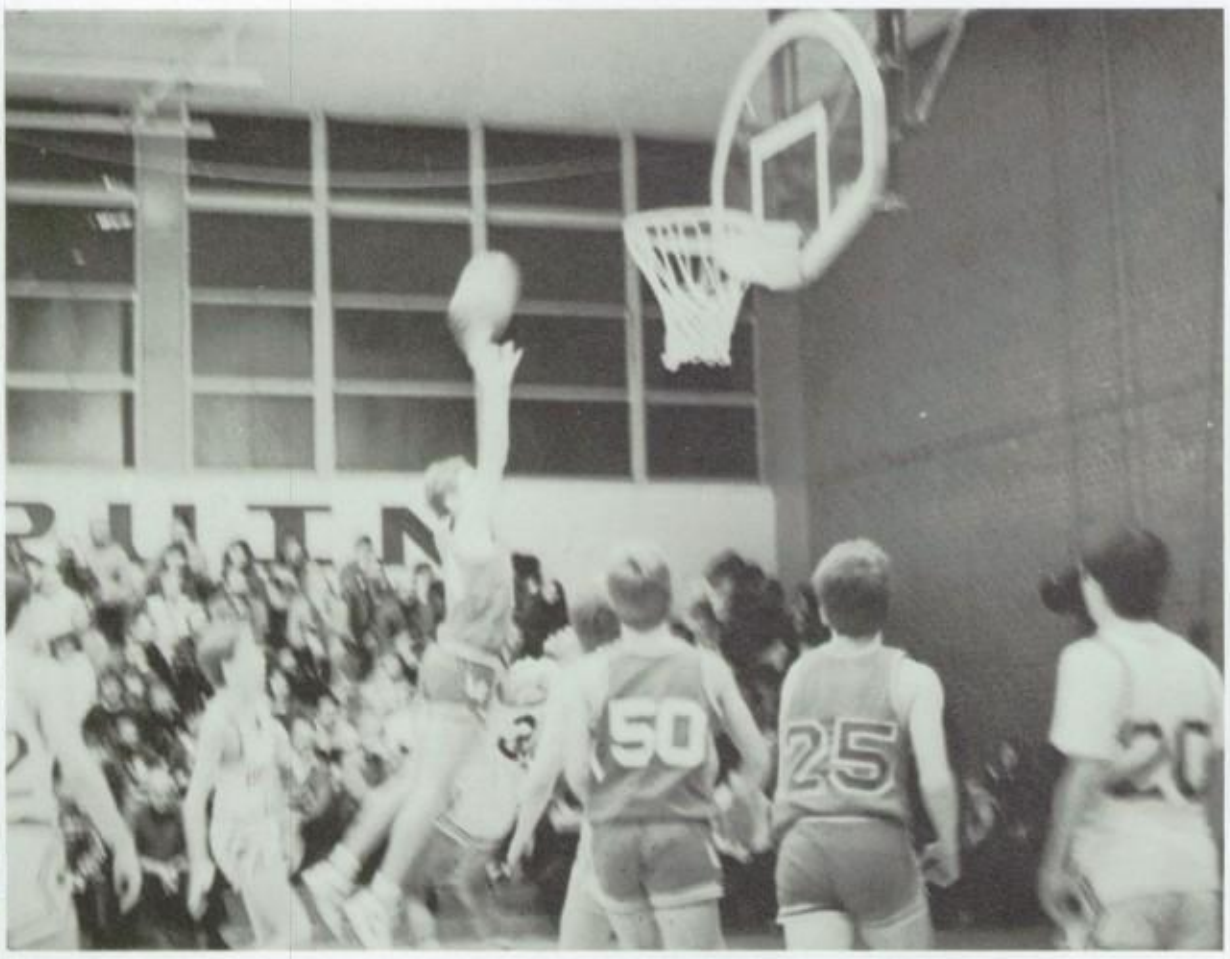
Dave Mencl leaps to score two for the Incas.



The Incas are kneeling, Terry Guisti, Bob Huber, Jamie Elias, Andy Skoog, Eric Korsan, Joe Ksiazak, Dan Reichen, Matt Jereb, Tim Tomminello. Standing, Brian Goff, manager; Steve Golden, Andy Fuhs, Bill Chapman, Jeff Grove, Dave Mencl, Bob Spelich, Mike Carter, Tim Koehler, and Coach Kramarsic.



Eric Korsan drives in the point, and puts up two for the Inca Cagers.

L-P Varsity Girls Basketball

This year's varsity players are, front, Managers Andrea Nekrosius and Amy Burkhart, Sharon Balda, Julie Rietgraf, Rachel Bradshaw, manager Beth Znaeki. In back are Coach Ron Olson, Kelly Findley, Tricia Sment, Jill Kain, Kris Goslowski, Tricia Newman, and Shelley Korte.

Although the Varsity Lady Cavaliers finished the season with an 8-11 record, most opponents will agree that the Lady Cavs played hard until the final buzzer.

Leading the 1986-87 team was Junior Kris Goslawski. Kris led the varsity team in rebounding and scoring, averaging 10.6 points per game earning her the most valuable player award for the season. Senior Tricia Sment was selected by her teammates as the most improved player for the 86-87 campaign.

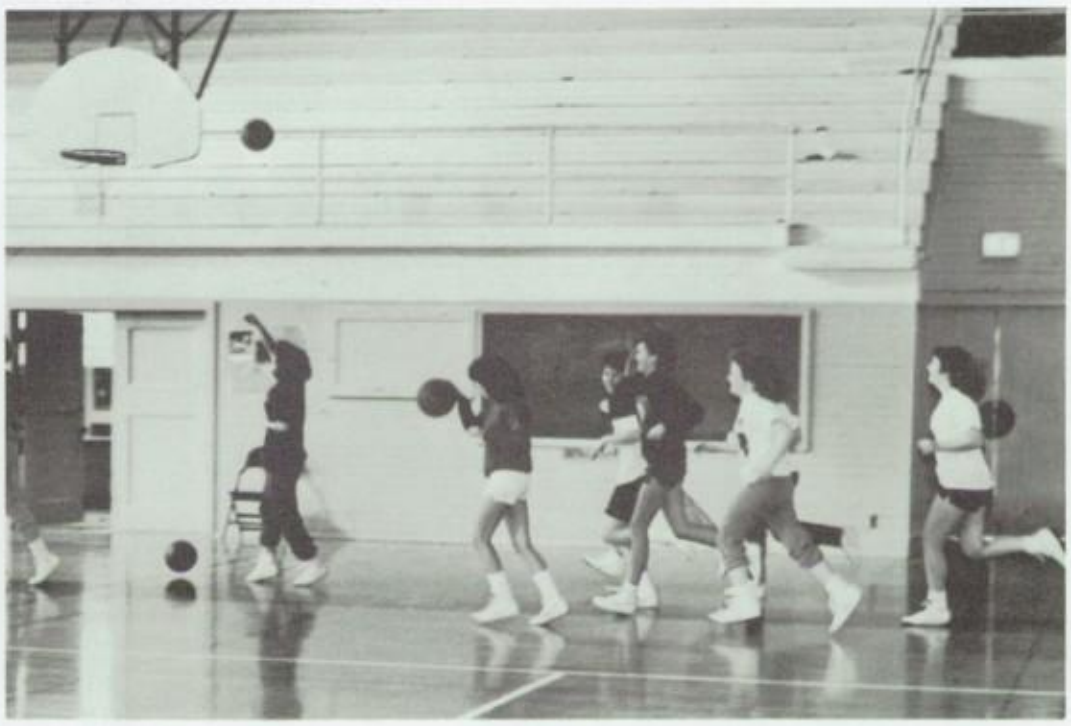
The Lady Cavs keep the ball in the air!

Kris Goslawski tips the ball to her teammates for early control of the game.

J-V Girl Cagers

Noreen Bratner goes for the rebound.

The J-V Girls spent many hours in practice.

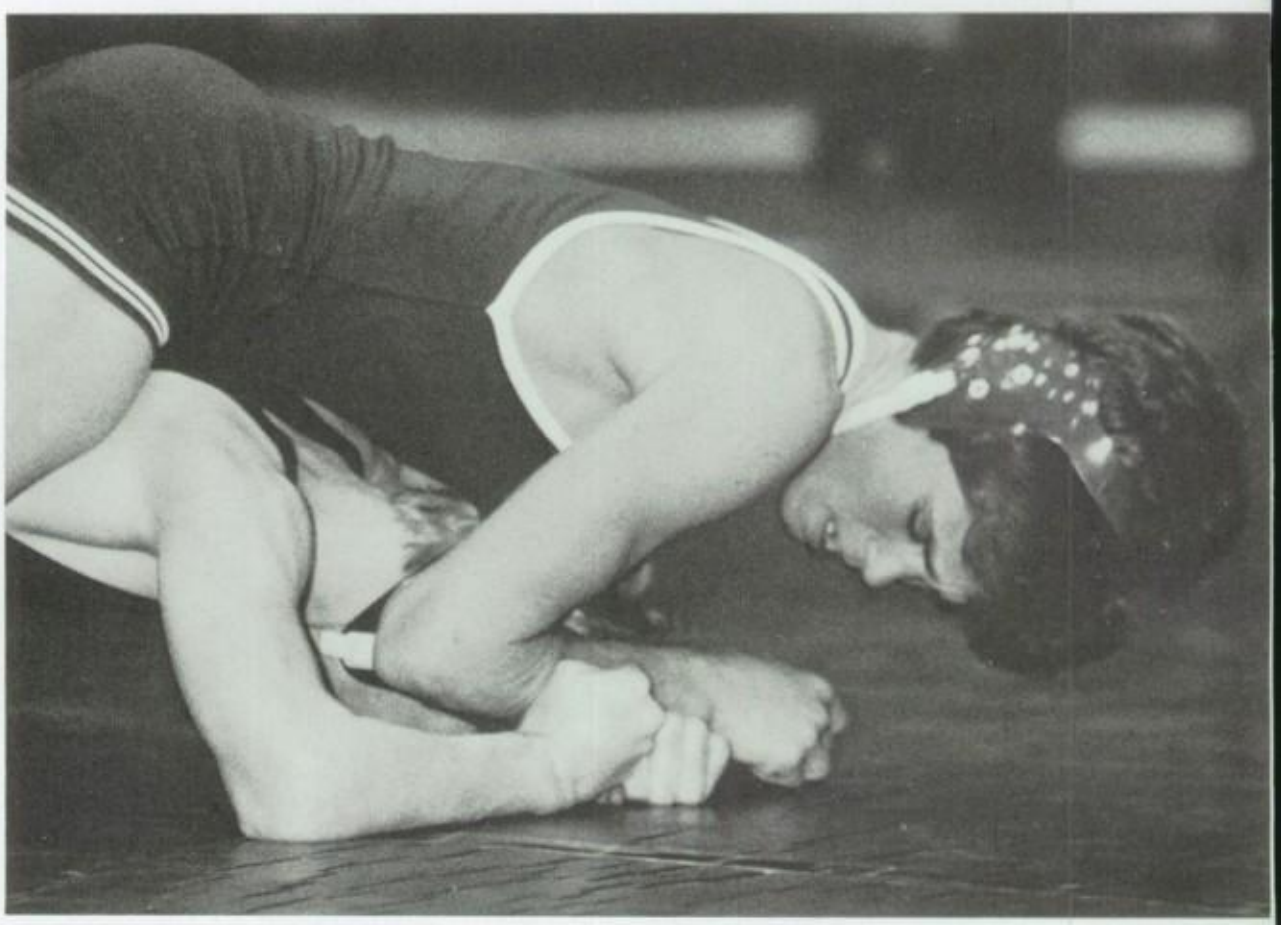


This year's J-V Girls Basketball team included front: Dawn Mateika, Tracy Bauer, Susan Walter, Raianne Schroeder, Jodeen Capponi, Andrea Rapp, Susan Kastigar, Noreen Bratner, and manager Andrea Nekrosius. In back are Coach Deidre Toler, Karole Siensa, Jennifer Grove, Christina Cruz, Laurel Imig, Beth Pellens, Jennifer Croisant, Kate Lance, and managers Beth Znaeki and Amy Burkhart.

AZTEC WRESTLERS TAKE SECOND AT THE NCIC

Individual highlights of the year included a first place by Gary Zebron at the Princeton Frosh Invitational, and Carlos Almaraz won the championship not only at the Peoria Woodruff Invitational but also at the Frosh NCIC Tournament at Dixon High School.

Chico Arzola and Jason Pijanowski. These two frosh both moved up to the varsity level for most of the year and posted eight and ten wins respectively.



Jason Pijanowski is shown here with a "double grapevine" on his Rock Falls opponent. He was champion of the Woodruff Tournament and placed third in the Freshman NCIC Meet.

INCAS BRING DOWN 11 WINS AND 3 LOSSES, PLACE FIFTH IN THE NCIC

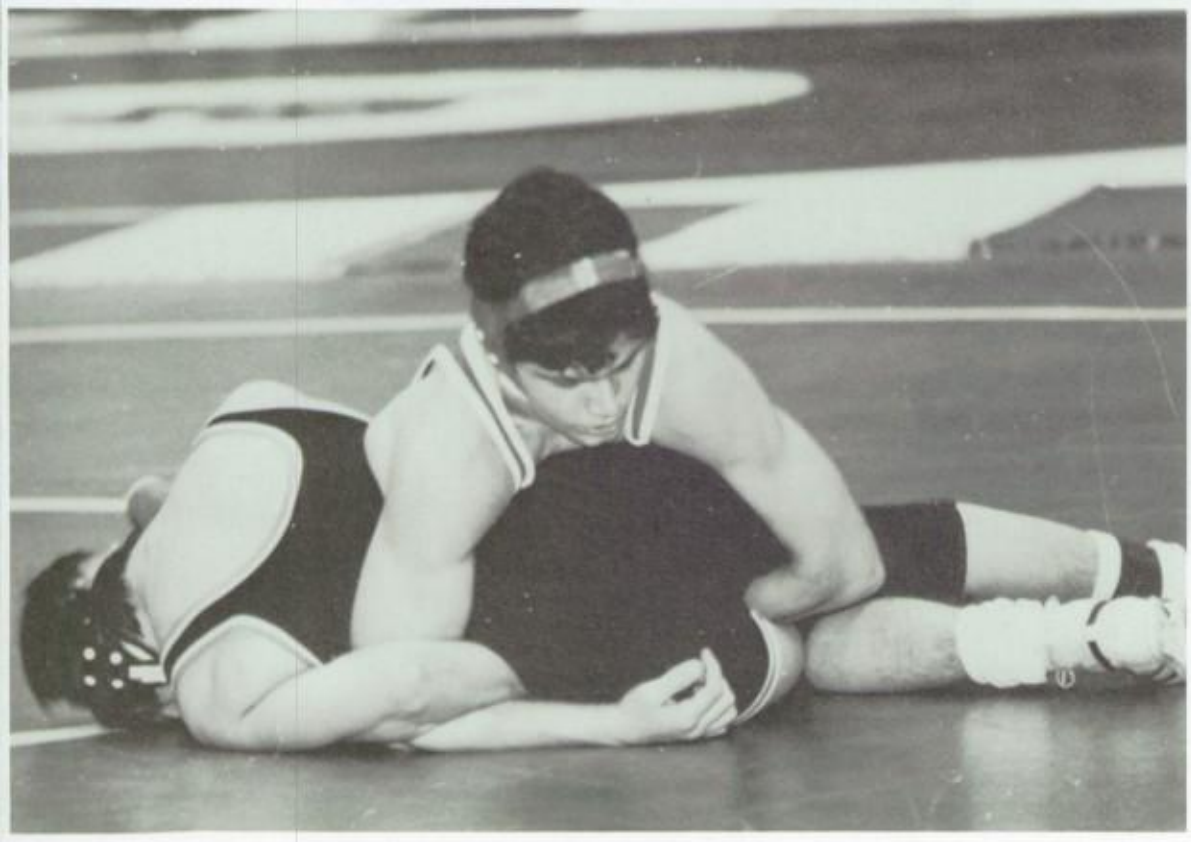
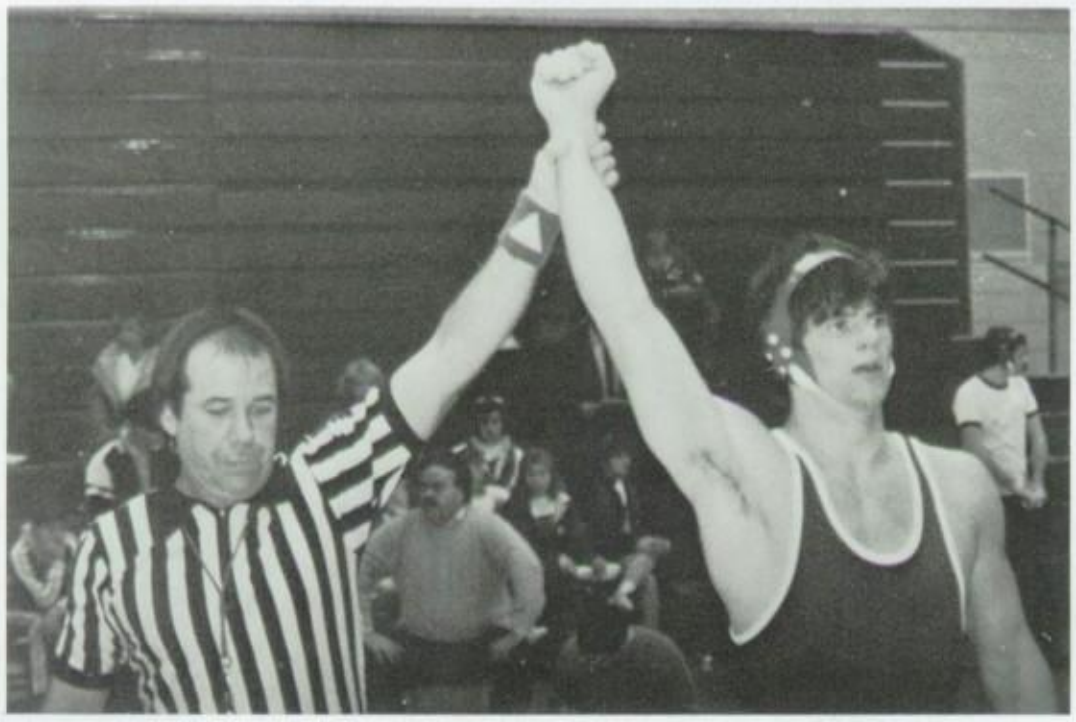
LEFT: Son Chau — ready to strike! Son now has 52 varsity wins in his first two year along with 148 takedowns. ABOVE: Ron Karun — Most Valuable Sophomore. Ron has a record of 17 wins and only 4 losses and was second in the Streator Tournament and third in the NCIC.



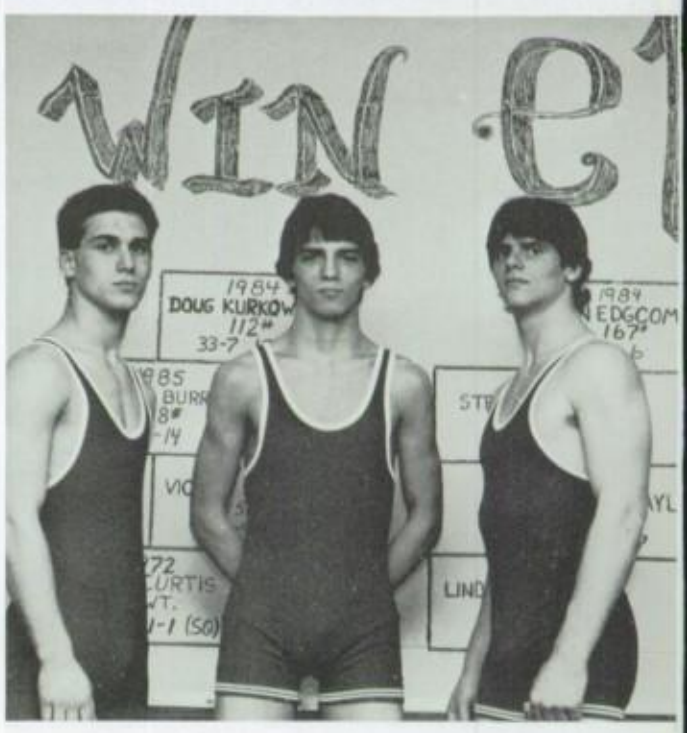
Sophomore Captain Rob Maggio shown working a "seashore," became a sectional qualifier this year and ended the season with 19 wins on the varsity level.

VARSITY GRAPPLERS PIN DOWN STRONG INDIVIDUAL WINS!

Varsity Starting Line-up. John Danczak, Son Chau, Rob Maggio, Joe Zokal, Earl Hocking, Steve Waszkowiak, Chris Kulpa, Darryl Young, Rick Langham, and Dan Wallace made up the starting line-up for the 10-11 Cavs for '86-'87.



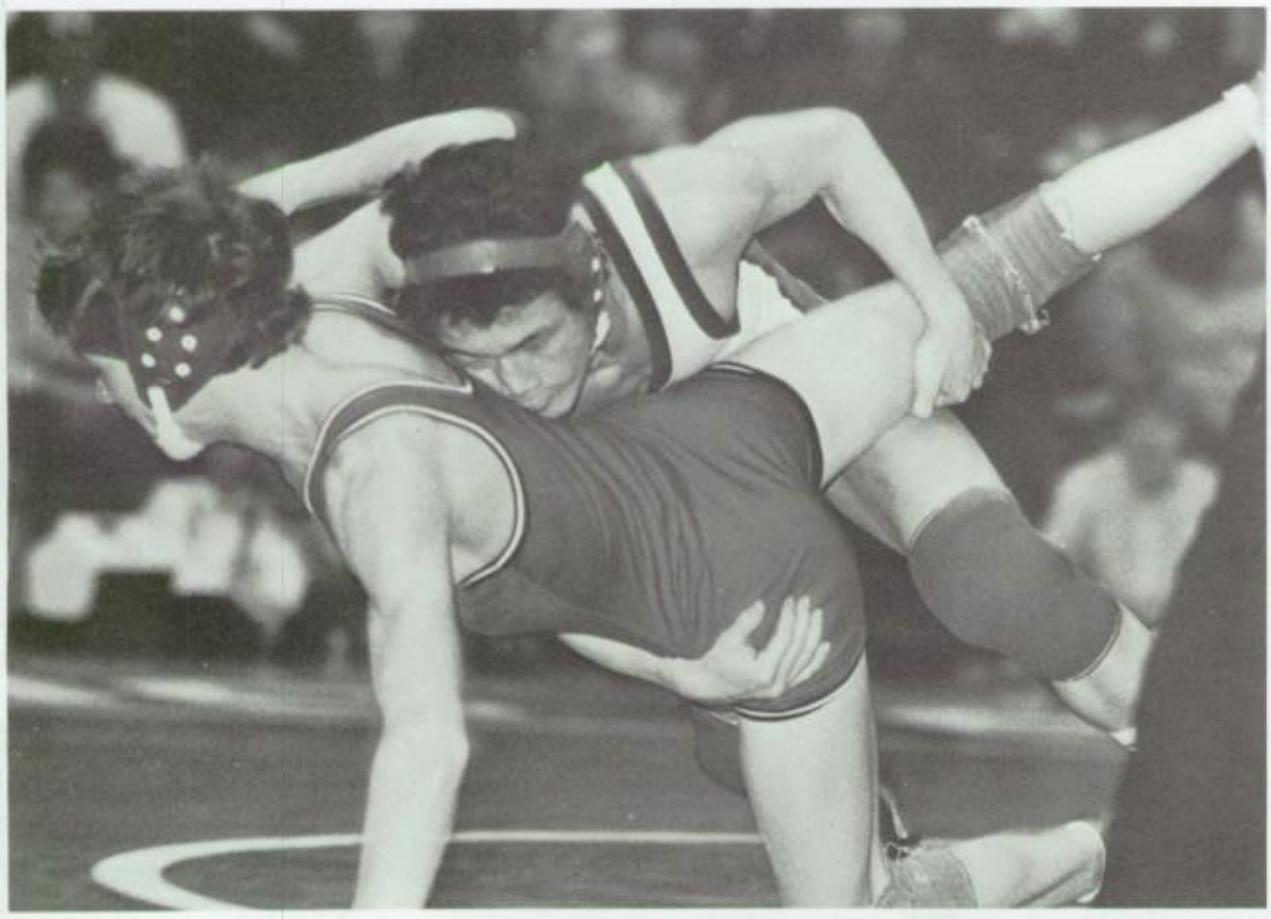
A familiar sight to L-P wrestling fans this year is Senior Tri-Captain Chris Kulpa getting his hand raised for another victory. "Kulps" won 28 this year and had a two-year total of 45. He also led the Cavs in pins with a score of 19.



Tri-Captains. Steve Waszkowiak, Dan Wallace, and Chris Kulpa all join the Cav's "25 Win Club" this season by winning 29, 30, and 28 matches respectively.

These six place-winners led the Cavs to a fourth place finish in the NCIC in '87 — our highest finish since '69. They are "Booper", second; "Wash", a second; Son, first; Rob, a fourth; "Zoke", a fourth; and "Kulps", a second.

These five seniors, Darryl Young, Chris Kulpa, Joe Zokal, Steve Waszkowiak, and Dan Wallace won a collective 110 matches for the Wrestling Cavs during the year.

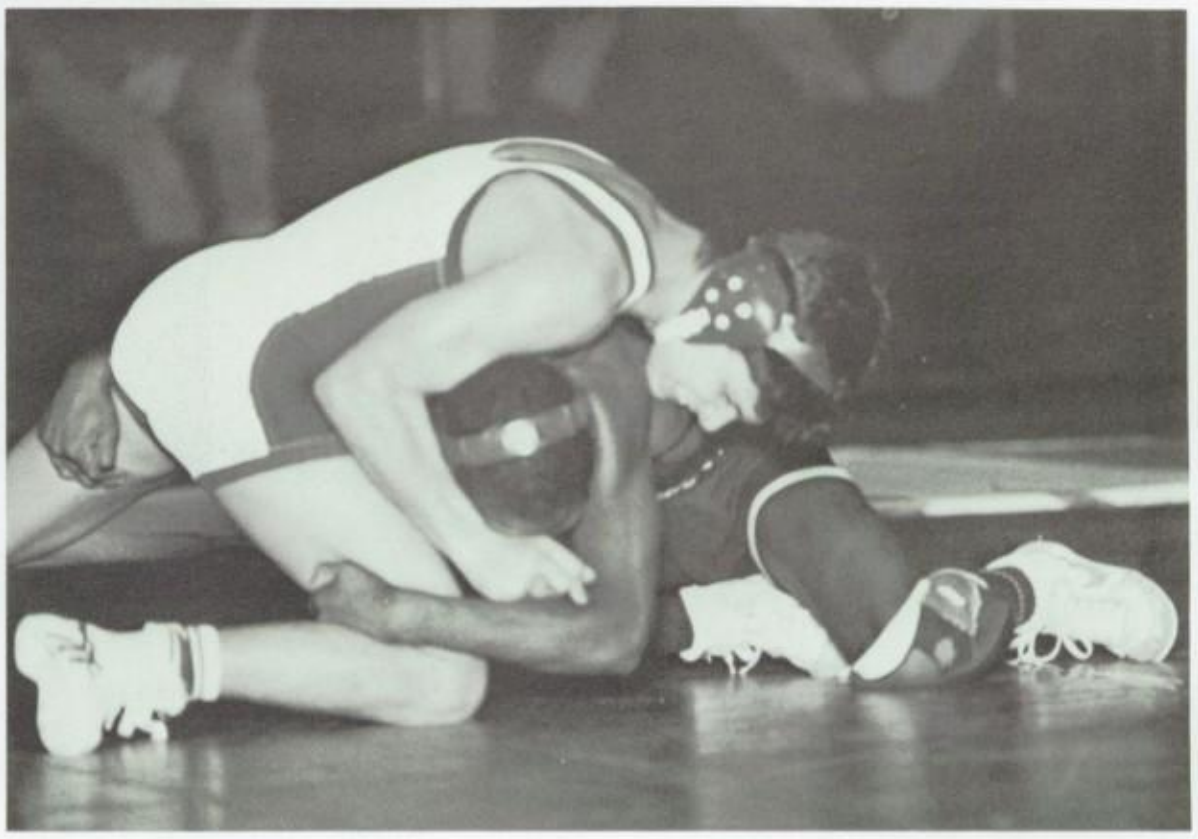


CAV GRAPPLERS DOMINATE!

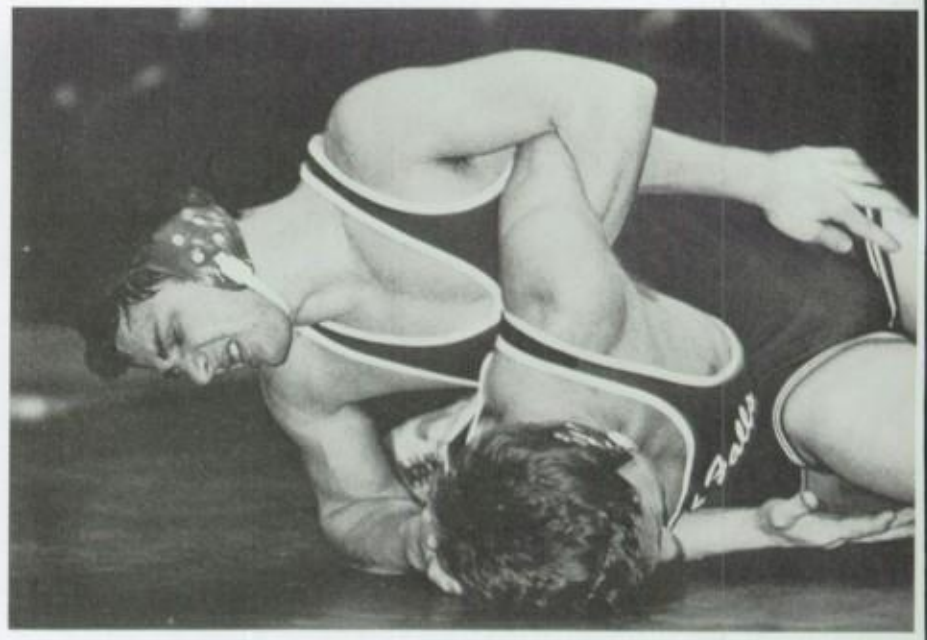
A 105-pound dynamo, Son Chau, shown here finishing a takedown enroute to his NCIC championship, won 28 matches this year, was a state qualifier, and set school records for most takedowns in a season with 107 and a two-year total of 148. Mr. Chau is only a sophomore!

Sophomore Rob Maggio, a two year varsity starter, is delivering a "cross-face." Rob was a sectional qualifier and had 19 wins for the Cavs this season.

CAVS TAKE 4th PLACE AT THE NCIC — Highest Finish Since 1969!

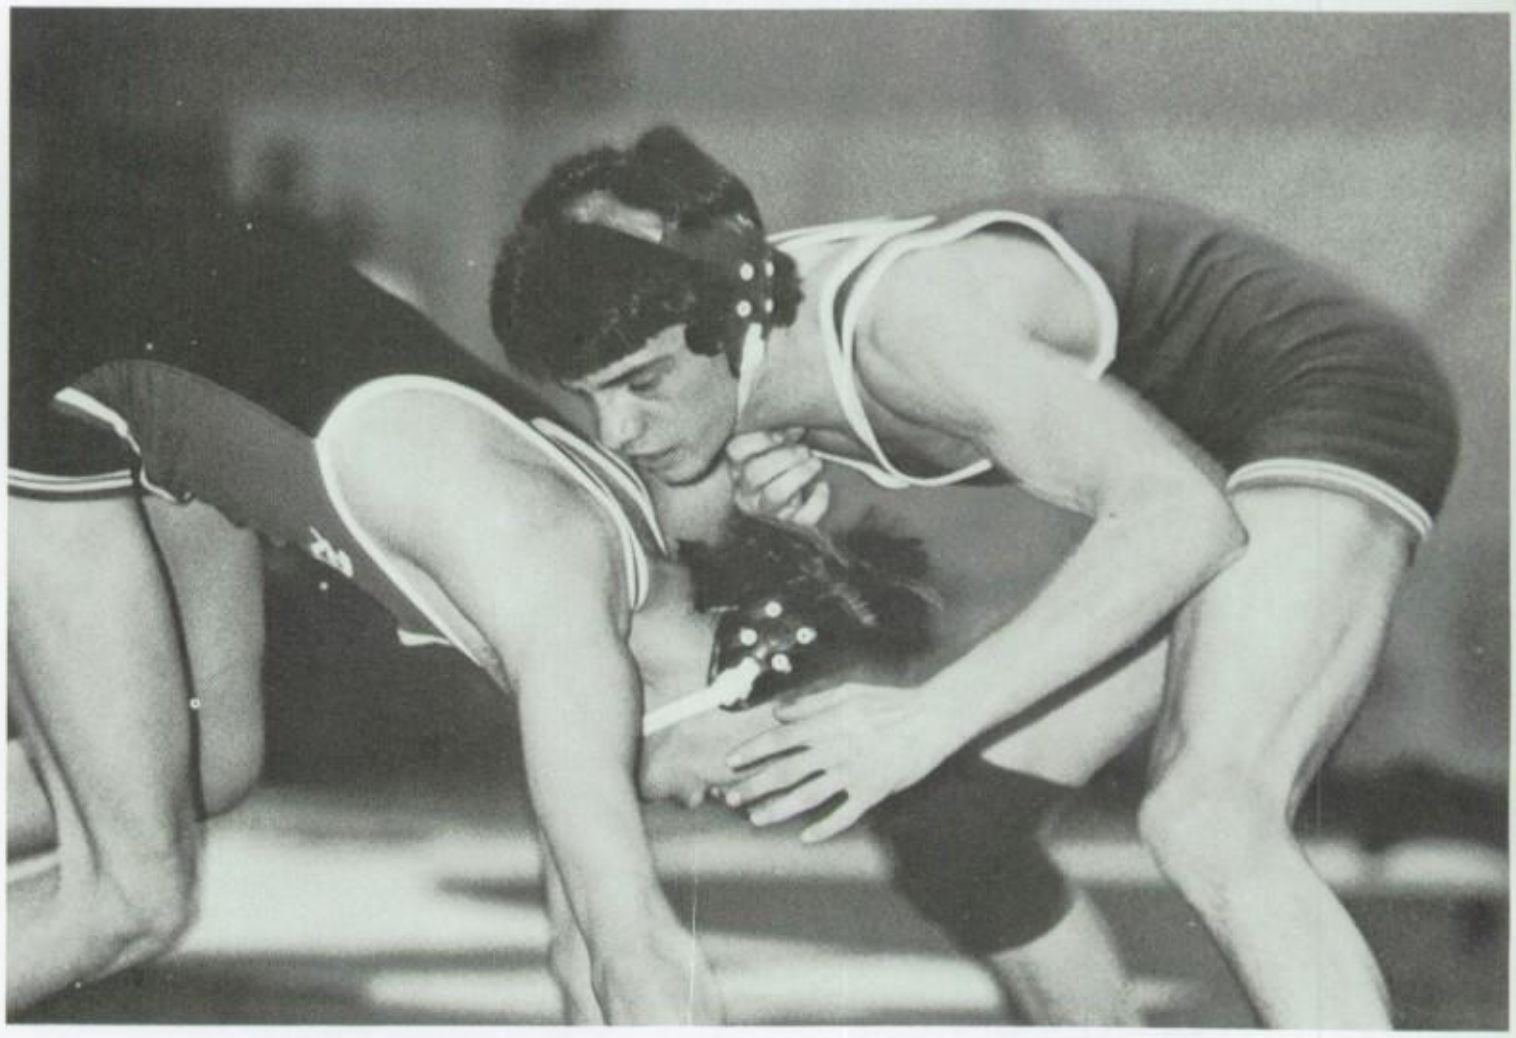


More Wrestling Action

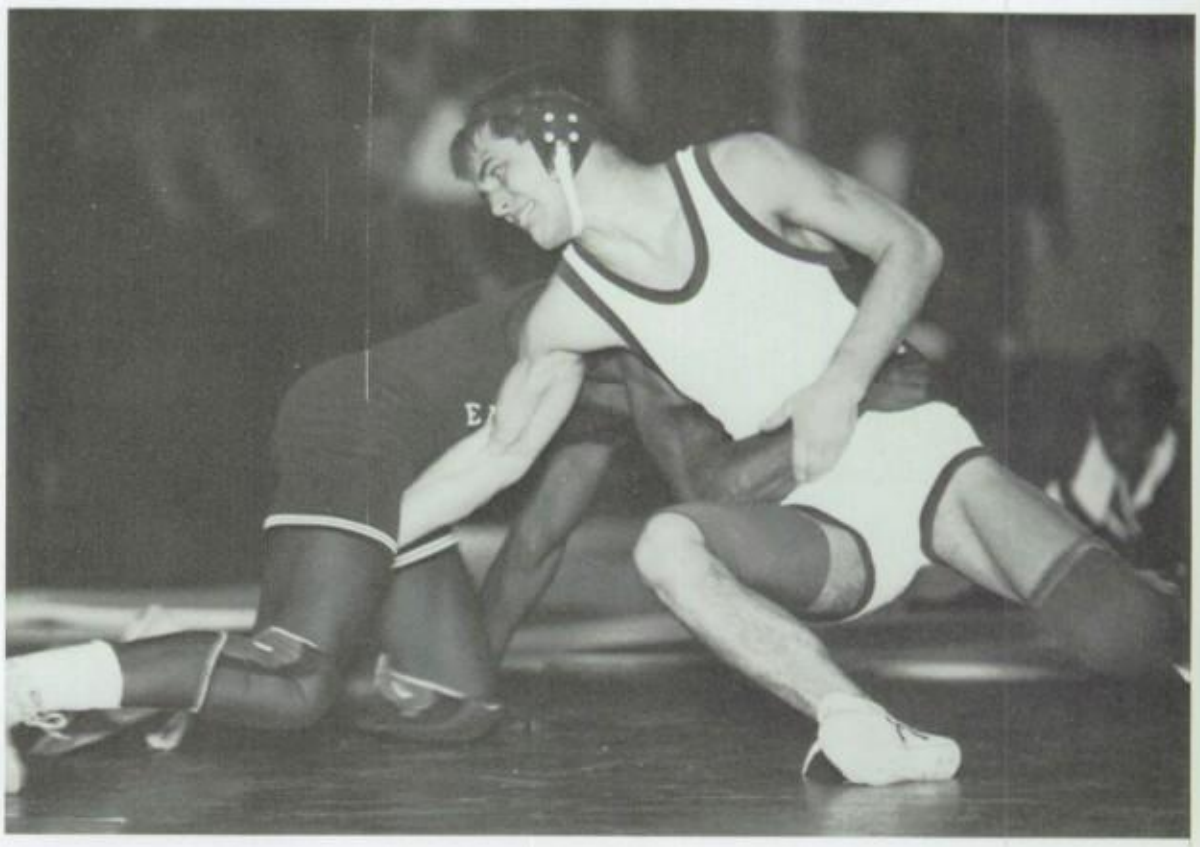


Senior Joe Zokal, shown here trying to turn his opponent with an "arm-bar", won 19 matches for the CAVS and was voted "Most Improved" by his teammates.

Dan "Booper" Wallace, a tri-captain, became LP's only 4-year starter this year. While winning 30 matches in '87. Booper finished his career with 64 varsity wins and a school record for number of matches (120). Dan led the Cavs in team points with 141 and won the sportsmanship trophy for the second year in a row.



Regional champ Steve Waszkowiak hits a "switch" in a home meet. Wash ended the year with a brilliant 29-11 mark and was a tri-captain and sectional qualifier. "Wash" was also voted by his teammates as the winner of the coveted "D and D" award.



LP's Intramural program was organized and conducted by Mr. Ron Burdon, director and Coach John Carls.

SENIORS

As seniors, our high school years are almost over and our lives are just beginning. Ever since we were freshmen, we have looked forward eagerly to graduation day. Now it's almost here and it seems like the past four years went by in a whirlwind of activity.

When we were freshmen, we suffered through the taunting and teasing of the dreaded "upperclassmen." Returning the next year, we all caught the painful but terrific disease, sophomoritis. We were no longer thought of as lowly freshmen, but obnoxious sophomores. Junior year, we recovered from our sophomoritis only to realize that college was just around the corner. We studied frantically for tests and exams to get the grades we needed to be accepted into a good university.

All of that is behind us now and our college careers or jobs are looming ahead. The class of 1987 is still looking forward to our futures and even though we'll leave the school behind, the friendships we made and the knowledge we gained at L-P will stay with us for a long time to come.

ACTIVITIES

With the huge number of activities during an average week at school it was no wonder that students had a hard time finding a happy medium between too much student life and too little studying.

Putting it all together — the time, the work, the responsibility, the studying, the talent — was part of the fun and involvement. Life outside the classroom was more than just doing homework. The traditions lived on in the planning of Spirit Week and Homecoming, the Halloween Dance, the French Club breakfast, and Octoberfest. It was going out for pizza after ball games. It was wrapping Christmas presents for the children's floor of the hospital. It was the caroling at the Mall.

Whether it was just going on a routine Friday night date with friends or playing in the Pep Band or proofing a piece for Impressions, student activities were a definite part of the puzzle.

The Student Council of La Salle-Peru Township High School is the main student legislative and representative body of our school.

Our members are elected from among the students of each class to represent them to our school administrators, faculty members and the school Board of Education when specific problems and different issues of student concern arise.

We are proud of all our accomplishments which we have done for the students of L-P, and just as proud of the accomplishments which our United States Constitution have provided for us. And in conjunction with the 100th Anniversary of the United States Constitution, we have begun constitutional conventions for revampment of our Student Council Constitution, so we may be at better service for you.

We are established because of you and for you.

Jeri Lynn Rodda, Mrs. Johnson and Geri Uloth confer during a fall semester fund-raising project.

QUESTION: What does it take to make a club with JOIE DE VIVRE? ANSWER: Loads of fun, plenty of good friends, and a bit of culture on the side.

L-P's own FRENCH CLUB is filled with both cultural and academic activities:

. . . a breakfast with French flaire . . . a round of political speeches to form a hard-working student governing board . . . a Homecoming float that showed everyone that the FRENCH CLUB can CAN . . . a bonfire and a pizza party to celebrate accomplishments of the French Club . . . a trip to Chicago to the Museum of Science and Industry and Water Tower Place . . . a successful fund-raiser: costume jewelry sale . . . Valentine Candy . . . a delicious trip to a French restaurant . . . a Spring Dance . . . participation in a national French contest and Global Fest . . . and participation in the International Banquet with other Foreign Language clubs . . .

Here are French Club juniors and seniors: Jeri Lynn Rodda, Sally Broviak, Geri Uloth, Tim George and Sue Scoma.

Spanish Club enjoyed an active, fun-filled year. It began with a Fiesta in September. October was dedicated to building a float for the Homecoming Parade and to making CHURROS and dancing the Mexican Hat Dance for the L-P Open House.

November will be remembered for the trip to Chi-Chi's Restaurant and Woodfield Mall. In December, juniors and seniors went to see the "Christmas Around the World" exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry. The Mardi Gras International Banquet and the candy sale were the highlights of the second semester.

1986-1987 IMPRESSIONS

The IMPRESSIONS Club compiles L-P's literary (creative writing) magazine. The club staff requests that interested students submit their original poems, short-short stories, short plays, thoughts, cartoons, comic strips, black-and-white photographs, and drawings for the interior and the cover of the magazine.

The staff carefully examines these works and makes semi-final selections. Next, the staff returns the items to the students for revisions. On their return, the IMPRESSIONS staff makes final selections.

Students in the art classes of Mrs. Garrett and Ms. Bednarik read the selections and submit illustrations which might be used to accompany the items. Mrs. Parisot and students of the L-P Area Vocational Center Graphic Arts class print the magazine, which usually comes out in May.

IMPRESSIONS MAGAZINE is partially paid for by the efforts of club members from their fund-raising project.

ART CLUB: The Year, the Story

The Art Club had a very stimulating year, full of quaint social gatherings.

(O.K., now let's get 'real' here.) It had a great year full of parties, dances and trips. They were "here." They were "now." Even though they were small, they really knew how to show it off.

Not your average club. The Art Club. The place to be!

Planning Activities. Mary Jo Rucinski, co-editor, Raianne Schroeder, Doug Jaraczewski, co-editor, and Allison Beltramini.

The 1987 Ell Ess Pe was photographed and written as an extra curricular activity this year for the first time in several years. Both staff and sponsors, Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Parisot, were new to the task and experienced together the joys, complications, and frustrations of journalism. However, the staff is proud of their effort! Seniors Julie Gingerich and Jill Urban, not pictured, planned and executed our Opening and Homecoming Sections. Mr. Terrando, former sponsor, and the man to whom we have dedicated our book, rendered invaluable assistance.

Copy-Fitters. Melinda Rowe, Raianne Schroeder, Lynda Cass, and Sandy Walker.

L-P SPIRIT MACHINE

The SPIRIT MACHINE had a busy year providing spirit to the many students at L-P. They displayed this zest by sounding the famous Victory Bell.

During the year THE MACHINE made signs to drive the player's spirit to an all time high. THE MACHINE presented carnations to senior players at the end of tough seasons of sports.

But THE MACHINE couldn't work unless it had dedicated students behind it!

SCHOLASTIC TEAM

"Recall" is the name of this game.

All the members of the Scholastic Team put their minds together to battle the world of trivia.

Mr. Lyon, coach and adviser, keeps the team in tip-top shape.

Scholastic Team members work extra hard in preparing for meets.

The Scholastic Team works on a variety of "trivia" areas such as history, sports and literature.

"This has been a building year for the L-P Scholastic Team," said Mr. Lyon. "We've gained a lot of valuable experience and have gotten involvement from all four classes."

"Onward and upward!"

CHESS CLUB

"The game of chess is the touch stone of the intellect."

— Goethe

"If the old chess bug ever bites, the victim is enthralled for keeps." This adage is an apt description for Byron Mitchell, Scott Biolchini and Mr. Pappas as the three players are lost in thought, thinking out the next move.

The able Mr. Pappas can easily play two club members simultaneously.

Though a small group, these members are avid players. Each month the club engages in tournament play, and play as eight-man teams or individuals. Occasionally, the club travels to challenge other schools. This year the membership have battled Peoria, Rockford, Chicago and Ottawa.

Remove the dampener form rollers to avoid smudging them.

If press has a protective cover beneath the inking unit, see that it is lined with blotting paper, and set it in place.

With a cleaner sheet on the plate cylinder, start the press nowhere at its slowest speed. Using a hand oiler (sprayhead oil can) filled with solvent, apply some solvent to the uppermost distribution roller (Fig. 46A). Lower the ipss of the other slowly to the roller, and feed th solvent slowly across the roller. Allow the press to revolve, thus working the solvent to

After the ink has been rollers to the cleaner sheet as the press continues to operate.

Now feed some solvent to the left half of the rollers. When that is packed up by the cleaner sheet, feed some solvent to the right half of rollers at a time prevents them from skidding.

When the cleaner sheet is dirty, lift the form rollers and stop the press. Replace with a clean sheet. Repeat the process and remove the second sheet. Since the sheets are dirty on only one side, they may be used for cleaning the press at another time (but to reverse order — dirt with the cleanest one).

With the press stopped, inspect all the ink rs, especially the ends. Touch up by hand.

ACADEMICS

The focused center of activity at L-P has traditionally been the classroom.

Though sports, extra-curriculars, clubs, and social interplay are vital to well-rounded education, the interaction between teacher and student and between student and student engaged in the learning process is the true heartbeat of L-P.

Administrators, counselors, teachers, and staff are equally committed to maintaining the tradition for excellence in education by offering outstanding programs in all departments in a smoothly organized, and carefully tended environment.

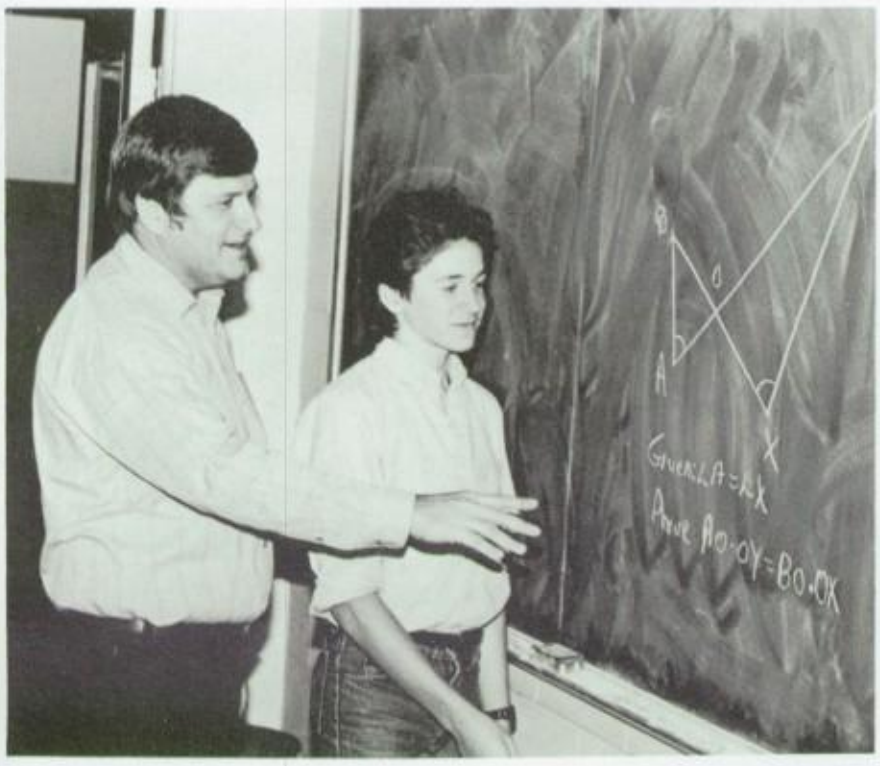
Editor: Bonnie Castagna

Foreign Languages: Windows to the World

Students are introduced to "foreign languages" by learning to understand, speak, read and write at elementary levels. Subsequent courses in French, German and Spanish sharpen pronunciation skills, broaden sentence structures and vocabularies. Advanced-level courses emphasize oral and written self-expression, conversational fluency and cultural and historical backgrounds.

TOP: Instructors in French, German and Spanish. Seated, Susan Johnson, Mary Sponsler, Eleanor Ryan and Dolores Decaroli, Foreign Language Department chairperson. Standing, Frank Strell and Jack Lyon. ABOVE: Miss Decaroli, surrounded by serapes, a sombrero and pinatas, has led student tours through Mexico on a dozen occasions. ABOVE, RIGHT: Classes in German, and German Club meetings take place in Mr. Lyon's Room 139. RIGHT: Mrs. Johnson guides her students through the language and culture of France.

The Math Department



Mr. Zebron advances the logic of geometry for sophomore Mark Gress.

More than a thousand L-P students were enrolled in some 40 math classes this year, covering 14 different math courses.

Students interested in careers requiring mathematics can assess their progress and better determine future math course selections from the results of the Illinois University Test of College Preparatory Mathematics offered regularly.

Math students are encouraged to qualify and compete in national math contests.

There seems to be unity in the axiom that math instructors are Number One. From left, the Mathematics Department staff: Lincoln Frost, department chairman; Don Wojciechowski, James Brennan, Wayne Zebron, William Frauens, Everett Taylor, Chesley Jacobs and James Greening.

English Educators

TOP: Instructors in the English Department include, seated, Robert Manahan, Mary Ellen Evers, division chairperson; Elizabeth Fontana, Byron Pappas, Marjorie Verplaetse, department chairperson; Richard Bianchi. Standing, Susan Kosciewicz, Patrick Weber, Lois Allen, Joe Vasquez, Jerry Panizzi, Harriette Gillespie, Jack Lyon, James Loebach, Robert Quick.

Mrs. Kosciewicz discusses study skills with Richard Hofmann and his mother. In October, the English Department sponsored several meetings of teachers, parents, and students to discuss the techniques of effective study. Mrs. Kosiewicz has kept in touch with the group throughout the school year to follow through on skills development.

Mrs. Verplaetse shares a pomegranate with her Humanities class. Once a year in this honors class, teacher and students alike dress in the classical costume of the toga and share cultural experiences.

The Social Scientists

PEOPLE are the VIP's of the Social Science Department — their economics, their government, history, cultures and geography. PEOPLE are studied and viewed through the impact of their governments: democracy, monarchy, dictatorship, socialism, communism, and capitalism. PEOPLE are studies in individual and group behavior.

ABOVE: Eight L-P upperclassmen were "elected" by classmembers to county "offices" for La Salle County Government Day. They are, seated, Beth Pyszka, Diane Balconi, Sonnie Ryba, Andi Richards. Standing, Lloyd Curry, Bob Mitchell, Tom Henson, and Doug Jaraczewski.

BELOW: This is the Social Science Department. Seated, Eleanor Ryan, Bonnie Lewis, and student teacher, Kim Wendt, Western Illinois U. Standing, Allen Swanson, William Johnson, Ronald Bird, department chairman; Joseph Skibinski, Dennis O'Keefe and Anthony Innis.

Driver Education

These instructors prepare sophomore students for their blue-tickets and Illinois Drivers Licenses. They are Huby Sarver, George Weber, and Anthony Innis.

A bank of new ultra-modern "simulators" are in place this year to provide realistic sessions for students to practice their driving skills.

P.E.

Physical Education is important for everyone.

And, whether your favorite activity is swimming, aerobics, tennis, basketball, weight lifting, softball, track, soccer, archery, badminton or just physical-fitness, L-P's P.E. program provides it for you.

Students get a chance to experience all types of physical activity.

Business Education

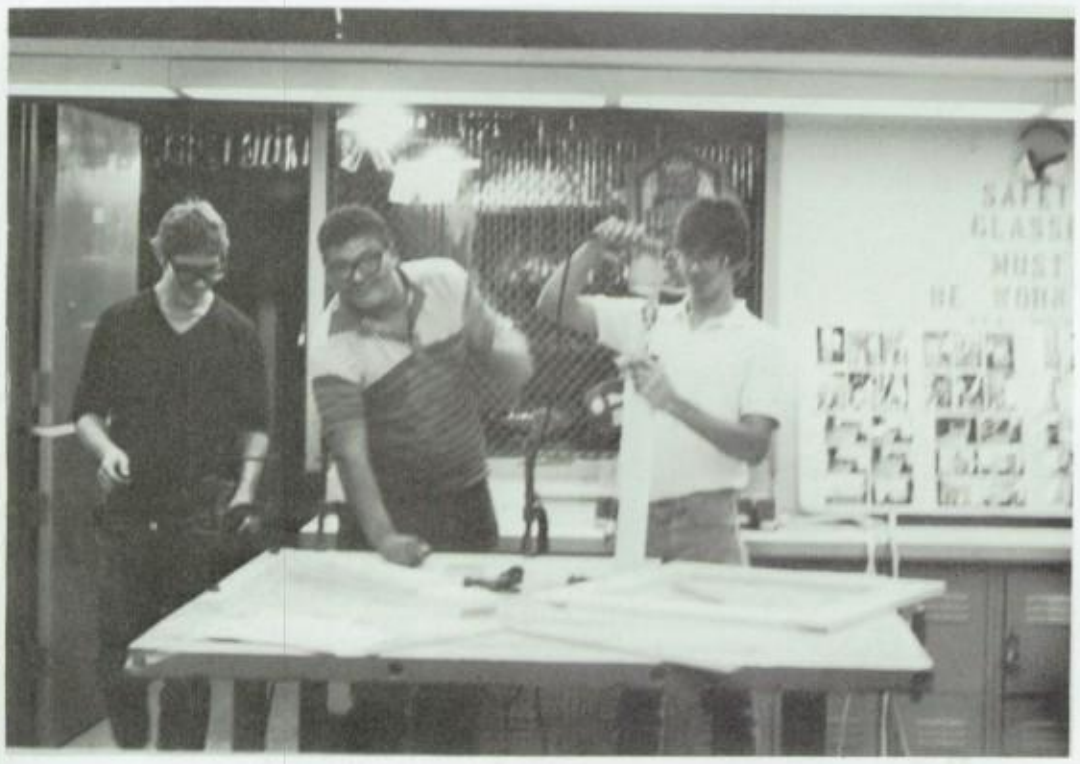
Business Education courses are provided to enable students to take some positive steps toward future successes. Typing, Consumers Education, Data Processing, Record Keeping, Accounting, Business Law and Introduction to Business are courses designed to spell the difference.

ABOVE: The Business Education Department is staffed by, seated, Joyce Vulcani, department head, and Sharon Broers. Standing, Thomas Peterson, John Pilarek, Patrick Weber and William Martuzzo.

As demonstrated by Lesley Bernard and Sandy Walker in the foreground, computers are used widely in the Business Department. Computer techniques are taught in such courses as accounting besides the basic classes of data-processing, literacy, programming and word processing.

Guest speaker from Robert Morris College discussing the business school with some L-P students.

Industrial Education



The new "Illinois Plan" has become a model for future Industrial Education courses — using high-tech images and information to match society's dependency on emerging technologies, and how careers will revolve around them. The "Plan" courses will also satisfy some of the science and math requirements mandated by the State Board of Education.

TOP: Industrial Education teachers are, seated, John Pigati, department chairman; Anthony Ajster, Donald Houde, Ronald Hillstrom. Standing, Ronald Olson, Wayne Zebron, John Bangert, Wanda Jensen, and Debra Parisot.

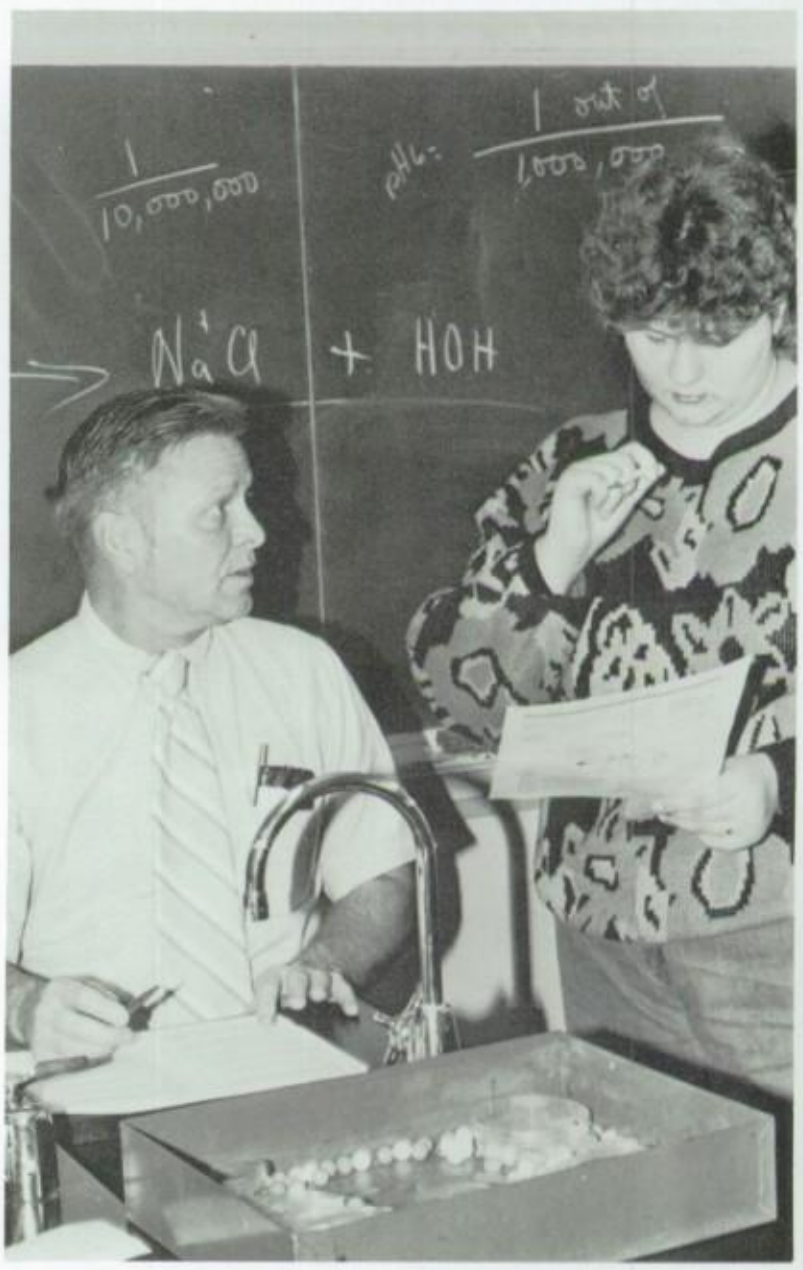
Science Department

The L-P Science staff leads its students through a broad and total range of study. Beginning with survey, basic and introductory courses, there are more than a dozen offerings in regular and honors classes in physical science, biology, chemistry, physics and physiography.

"Terminal" science study, or a structured series of college-prep courses are optional.



TOP: Science instructors. Linda Pierce, Marvin Getty, David Jordal, Ronald Burdon, Peter Navin, department chairman; Charles Sheaff and Lawrence Hoover.

Home Ec — A Tool For Life!

Whether testing a self-made edible creation, tending to the needs of an ill patient, tearing out seams and reparing a fashion outfit, the Health Occupations and Home Economics Department is there to provide a student with the aid they need to become that cook, nurse, or seamstress they may desire to be.

If it's time for that annual research project and you need those ever so important resources to help you, or you just have time to relax and enjoy a filmstrip on a popular subject, the library and Audio-Visual department are there to help a student in such cases. The librarians provide a student with the necessary help in finding that right book and Mr. Steger aids you with the Audio-Visual necessities. The library is an important factor in the academic life of a student.

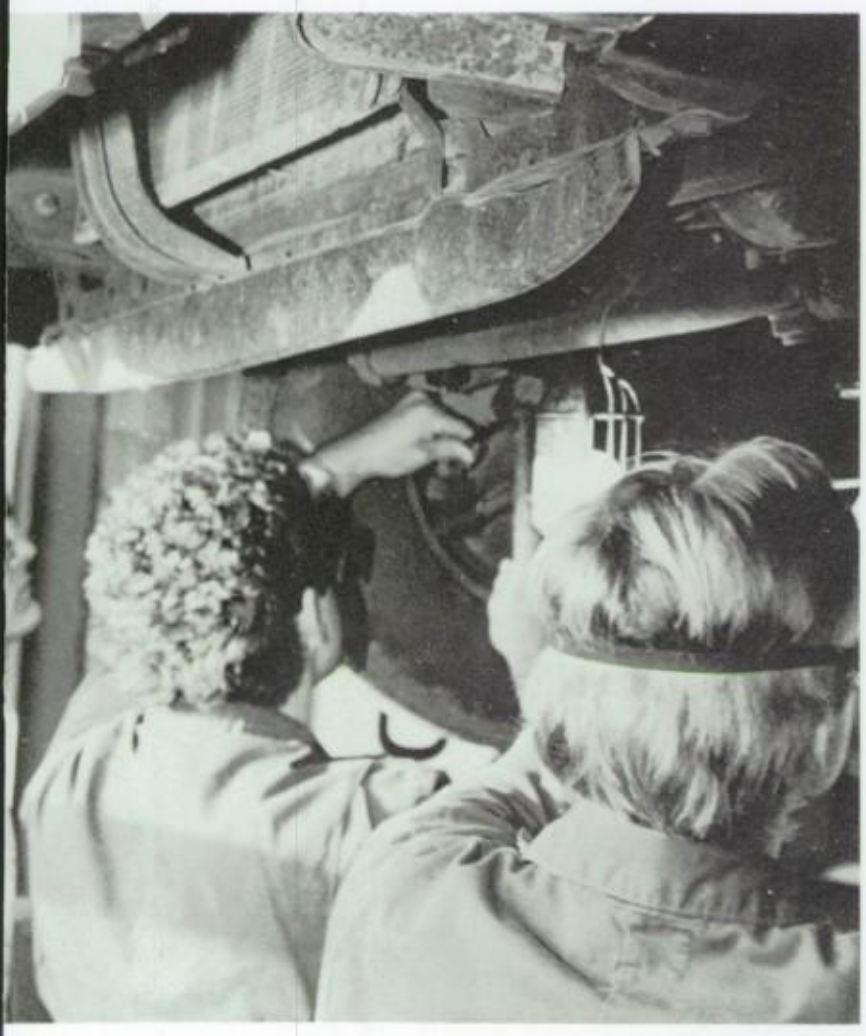
On-The-Job Training For High School Students

Area Vocational Center administrators include secretary Rita Martinkus, director Joe Colmone, counselor John Orcutt, and bookkeeper Jan Olson.

Teaching the various areas of instruction are back Ron Olson, Joelyn Bednarik, Sharon Broers, John Bangert, Wanda Jansen, Sue Roos-Rickles, and Debora Parisot. Front are John Pigati, Tony Ajister, John Pilarek, Don Houde, and Ron Hillstrom.

Vocational Auto Mechanics provides students with the real thing to work on.



Vocational Food Service student Shelly Korte measures flour for a recipe. Food Service provides on the job experience for those interested in a career in the restaurant business.

Vocational Graphic Production students Maria Cruz and Dan Herrick silk screen t-shirts. They are using a photographic technique.

The LaSalle-Peru Area Vocational Center is the capstone of the vocational program at LaSalle-Peru High School. Students from L-P as well as other area high schools come here for training for entry level jobs in a number of areas.

The areas of study include graphic productions, beauty culture, food service, drafting, data processing, simulated office, commercial art, woods, welding, health occupations, agriculture, electronics, and auto mechanics.

SPECIAL EDUCATION: Preparation for Life

PROVIDING THE

The 1986-87 Board of Education. Seated are Marlene Tidaback, Board Secretary, Dr. Edward J. Fesco, President, and Dr. Rose M. Lynch. Standing are Attorney Anthony Raccuglia, Dr. Robert D. Pomije, Superintendent, Dr. John W. Etzenback, John Goskusky, and Walter Zukowski, Attorney to the Board. Not pictured are John Andersen and Dr. James A. Spelich.

Dr. Robert D. Pomije has served L-P as administrator for 16 years.

LEADERSHIP

Mary Ellen Evers has served the L-P educational community as assistant superintendent since 1969. She has dedicated forty years of professional service to L-P in a variety of roles, including teacher of English, counselor, and director of student services.

John Goede, L-P Dean of Students, joined the administrative team at mid-season this year. His secretary, Ethel Bregant, celebrates her twenty-fifth year of service to the school this year.

William Roth, principal, has been an administrator at L-P since 1967. Previously, he taught U.S. History and coached a variety of sports. Pictured with him is his secretary, Adele Urbanski.

The Heart of the Daily Routine

In the Student Services office these three faces provide friendly, courteous service to all. Gladys Pryde, who this year celebrates 25 years of service to L-P, is in charge of student records. Rose Arbisi and Arlene Slusarik man the phones and convey the multitude of messages that must be passed among students, parents, teachers, and callers.

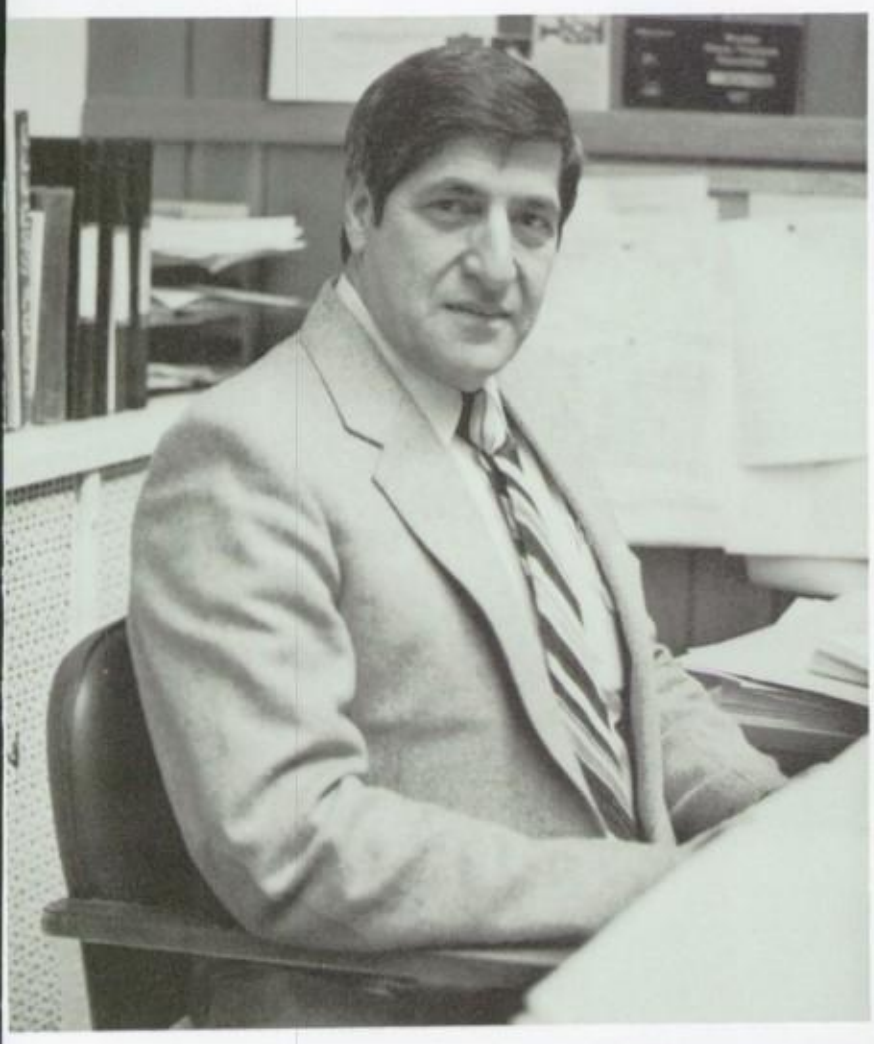
Mitch Landgraf, Doug Jaraczewski, Jeri Rodda, and Rebecca Thomson announce the round of daily announcements compiled by Mrs. Pryde.

THE BUSINESS OFFICE STAFF

Dealing with the business-side of education is the executive team in the Business Office.

Seated, Lois Redman, clerk and accountant; Marlene Tidaback, secretary to the Board of Education. Standing, Karen Foley, accountant; Linda Boumpe, secretary to the superintendent and assistant superintendent; Mary Jane Sadnick, secretary. Not pictured, Jane Ousec, cashier.

FOR THE SAFETY AND HEALTH OF OTHERS



Concerned for the safety of others, Charles Martin and Arlene Waytenick, security officers, pictured above, enforce the "Code of the Cavalier."

Besides the recordkeeping of health exams, immunizations, and P.E. excuses, school nurse Ann Witalka is in the profession of dispensing plenty of TLC for the general miseries of the human condition — the sniffles, headaches, colds, and the generally-out-of-sorts that daily visit her office.

Specialists to Assist the Individual

Experts at fitting the pieces together, our counselors offer specialized assistance to students, who are planning for the future, making curricular and personal decisions, and dealing with problems. RIGHT: The Guidance Department. Seated, William Pelikan and Janice Kaufman, director of guidance. Standing, Richard Benvenutti and Joe Marini ABOVE: Known for her ready wit and smile is School Psychologist Ellen Curran. Also committed to assist the individual student is Patricia Msseemmaa, school social worker.

ABOVE: New to L-P this year is speech therapist Dave Rucinski. Besides working with students to correct speech, he assists with both the varsity football and wrestling programs, and coaches softball.

Masters of the PLAN!

The Athletic Director's Office

Bret Brown and his secretary, Mary Jane Denny, schedule the sports program for L-P. The buses, the players, the teams, the coaches, the events, the equipment, the tickets, the rosters — all details are coordinated by this experienced team.

Masters of the DETAIL!

The Educational Organization

Director John Pilarek and Bobbi Newell, his clerk, are pictured with the third character in their daily scenario, the Machine. This trio collects and organizes the myriad of significant facts needed in an efficient educational organization — the names, the grades, classes, student schedules — the information we all need. And RIGHT NOW!

Custodial and Maintenance personnel. Seated, Diane Kruswicki, Liz Michels. Standing, Carl Strange, Stan Sudaj, Don Soberalski, Demetrius Salazar, Scott Peterson, Rich Komalczyk, Fred Mini, Vincent Flannery, Stan Kulpa, Tony Labarbara, Dr. Pomije.

THE ABSOLUTELY INDISPENSIBLE

Cafeteria personnel. Connie Tonarelli, Diane Patelli, Sandra Pijanowski, Dolores Kruswicki, Donna Novak, Mary Ann Windy, Angie Suarez.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

The Class of 1988! It seems like only yesterday when we walked through LP's doors — some scared and some ready to take on the challenge of high school. Now we are ready to take over as next year's Senior Class. Hopefully we will be ready to face new fears and challenges.

What am I gonna do with my life? Most Juniors are asking themselves this difficult question. After taking their ACT and SAT tests comes the time when they must begin to seriously plan their future. What college to attend? What if I can't get the scholarship? How will I be able to afford college? Most of the Juniors have part-time jobs and are gradually saving for college.

The Junior Class made this year memorable from the first day of school to the last with friends, parties, and plans for the future.

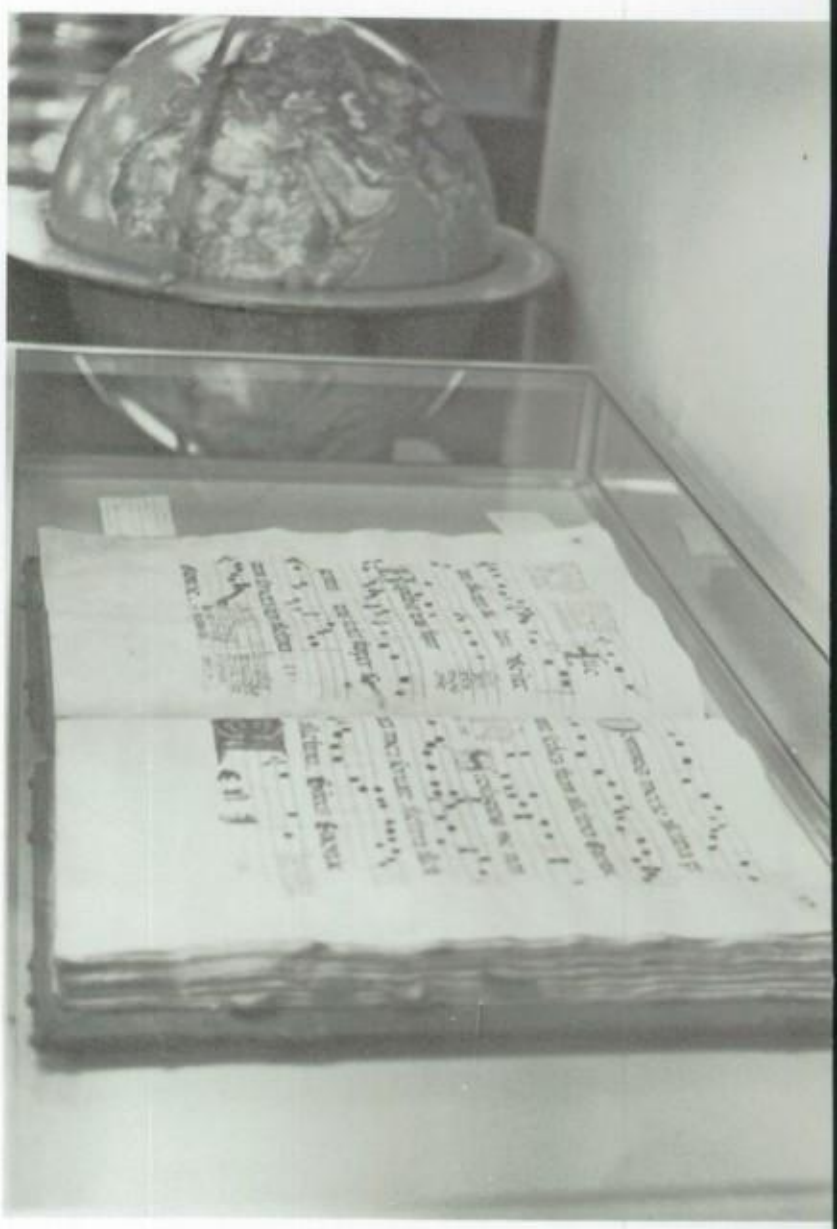
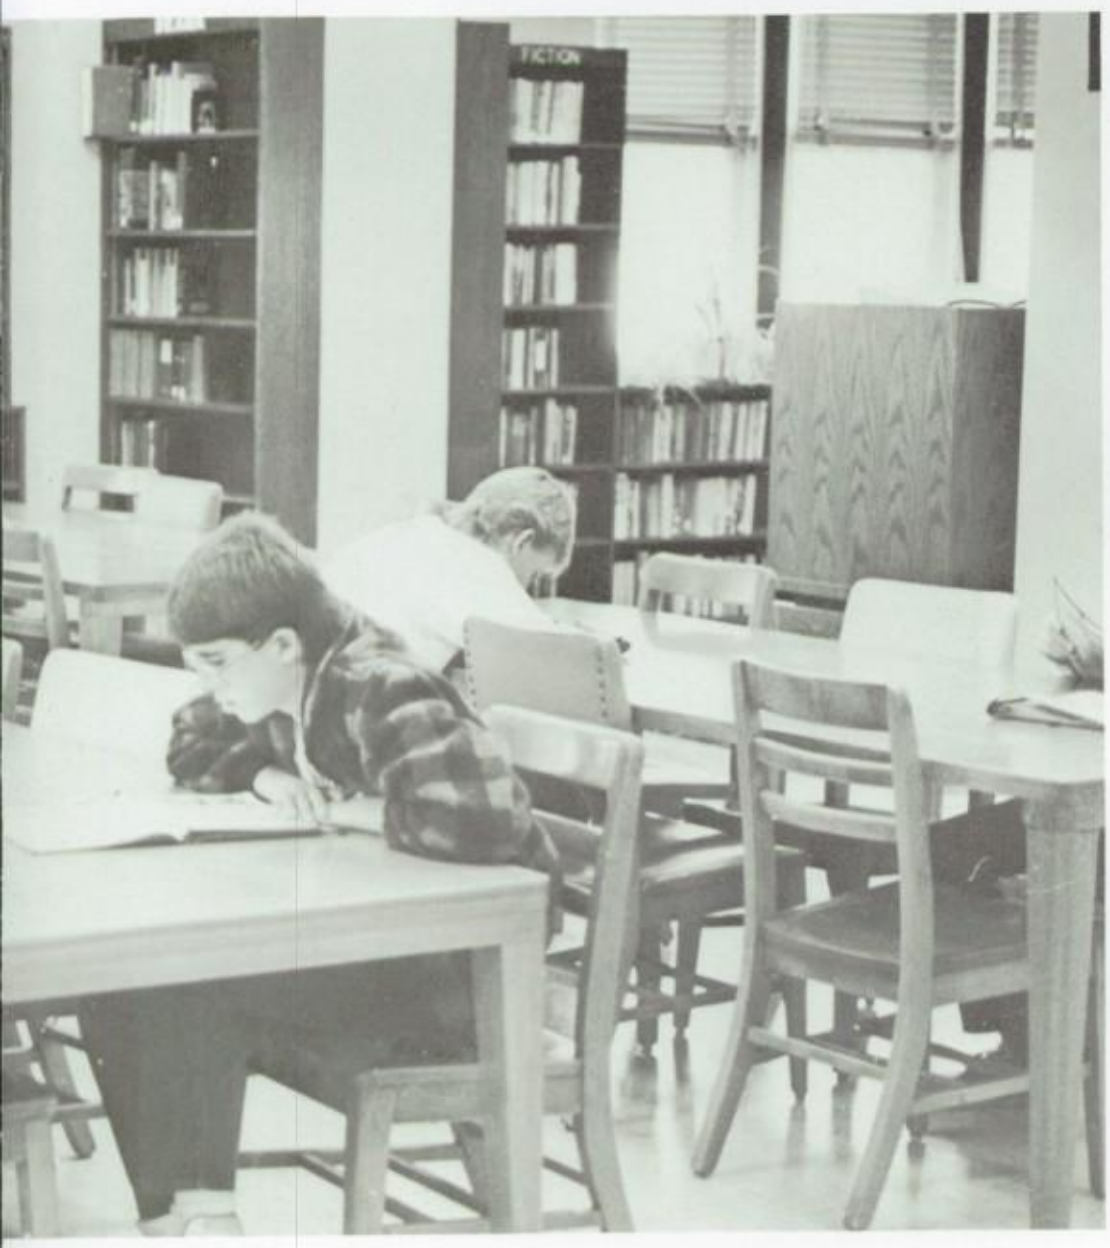
THE McCORMACK LIBRARY

Muffled by thick walls and monitored by watchful librarians, the noise of the classroom and frolic of the halls are lost in the quiet serenity of the library. Here, as in no place else in the school, a student may lose himself to a world of books and study and art. Everywhere treasures hang from the walls or rest in cases, available to the eye and imagination. The library offers a stately repose to the serious student.



In the library are two magnificent original canvasses by Francesco Solimena (1657-1747) entitled "The Easter Sacrifice" and "The Sacrifice of Abraham." These paintings are from the chapel of the Istori family in Montepuliciano, Tuscany. They were purchased in Italy and were presented to the school by Mr. George P. Blow. Pictured above is "The Sacrifice of Abraham."



Though working at the same table, Andy Reynolds and Mike Edgcomb are miles apart as each is engrossed in reading.

Jill Skibinski, seated in "Santa's Chair", and her date for the evening, Sam Samolinski, pose for the camera at the dance.

Dancers sway to the music in anticipation of seasonal festivities. The next day officially begins Christmas vacation.

This year's Christmas Dance was a spectacular event. Sponsored by the Student Council, with music provided by Justus, the dance was a huge success. A Merry Christmas was had by all, and all had a wonderful night.

Miss Sponsler,
I really enjoyed being in your class.
I really learned a lot.
Spanish was one of my favorite classes. It was the class that I got the best grade in. Good Luck in Springfield!
¡Adios!

Miss Sponsler,
I'll always remember your class very clearly as one in which I felt very comfortable and able to learn freely.
I only wish more teachers could conduct their classes as you do; with a warm and loving atmosphere that encourages everyone
to try his best.
Thank you.

Miss Sponsler, if I'm still wondering you double as Mrs. Claus during Christmas because you're such a nice person.
I'm sure sis and I will be down to see you next year
We will miss you tons, and thanx for enlightening me w/ espanol. GOOD LUCK!
